RIOT FOLLOWS STRIKE IN PRISON

ONE CONVICT KILLED;
TWO OTHERS WOUNDED

Fatal Fight in General Mess
Hall at San Quentin
Penitentiary

San Quentin, Cal., June 10.—A continuation yesterday of the "grub strike" demonstration begun Saturday in San Quentin prison developed into a riot in the general mess hall as a result of which one prisoner was shot and killed and two others were wounded.

The dead: H. L. Lynwood, a naval prisoner, serving a term of six and one-half years for desertion, and impersonating an officer.

The wounded: Frank Taylor, a negro, serving 20 years for robbery committed in San Francisco, shot through hand; H. A. George, struck in leg by glancing bullet.

Nineteen hundred prisoners were sitting down to dinner shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon when 200 or 300 of the men began a concerted demonstration. Not content with voicing their protests with shrieks and catcalls, the demonstrators began throwing dishes and food about. Some made a rush for the adjoining kitchen and began hurling heavy pots and pans around the room. These were driven out with a hose, spouting live steam, several of the rioters being severely burned.

No sooner was the mutiny started than the prison bell was sounded with the "lock-up" signal.

The majority of the men who had taken no part in the demonstration were anxious to escape from the hall, and made a rush for the three doors. At two of the doors the men passed out unmolested. At the third several of the rioters endeavored to block egress, their purpose being to keep the men in the mess hall and prolong the demonstration. It was here that the Lynwood, one of the leaders of the mutineers, was shot down. A guard's bullet pierced his chest and he died almost instantly. Taylor also tried to block the passageway and he received a bullet through the hand. The bullet glanced from the floor and struck George in the leg. George had taken no part in the disturbance. Only these three shots were fired.

The prisoners were quickly marched to their cells, but the rioters, even after being locked up, continued their shrieks of defiance and kept up their shouting at intervals until late tonight.

Warden Hoyle said last night that thirty or forty of yesterday's mutineers would be severely disciplined. Ten men were singled out for disciplinary measures for Saturday's disturbances, but of these only four were punished. Active bedlam lasted twenty minutes, but the uproar, the shrieks, the yells and curses continued late into the night.

As the evening fell a woman's full contralto, rich and pure, floated from her cell, out into the prison yard, out over the prison wall, and the words that she sang were: "I'm Wearing My Heart Away for You." The cadence fell and died into the night. Succeeding it came all the hideous, nameless clamor of the prison cry. Compounded of hate, fear, loathing and derision, it found voice in a harsh discord of screams, yells, growlings and piercing whistles. How many voices went to make it, with the cells from which it came, it was the business of the guards to report. Out of nineteen hundred and odd prisoners, probably between two and three hundred were active rioters.

MAGISTRATE WOULD SHOOT CHAUFFEUR

Is Outspoken in Denouncing
Reckless Automobilists
in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, June 10.—Magistrate McKen started his courtroom by the declaration that if he carried a loaded revolver and an automobile ran into him he would shoot its driver.

"I think my life is worth something," said the magistrate, "and I would not allow anyone to threaten it with impunity. You automobilists should consider that the automobile inspector is protecting you against such men as myself when he keeps you from breaking the law."

Four cases of speeding were before the magistrate and small fines were imposed.

NEW SETTLERS.

Total Immigration During Month of April Was 62,931.

Ottawa, June 10.—Immigration to Canada via ocean ports during April was 41,437, as compared with 35,283 for April last year, an increase of 17 per cent. Number of arrivals from the United States for April was 21,494 as against 16,397 during April, 1911, an increase of 31 per cent. The total immigration for the month was 62,931. During the corresponding month last year it was 51,680.

VIOLENT DEATHS IN TORONTO.

Toronto, June 10.—Toronto had 40 cases of violent death in May, 1912, as against 23 in May last year. Violence ranks third among the causes of death in the list. The number resulting from acute contagion was 46, and tuberculosis claimed 45.

BONAR LAW NOT COMING.

London, June 10.—Bonar Law, the Unionist leader, informs the Canadian Associated Press that he has not made any arrangements to visit Canada.

LORD HALDANE ON EMPIRE DEFENCE

REFERS TO ACTION OF OVERSEAS DOMINIONS

Will Have to Organize Their Own Military and Naval Forces

London, June 10.—Lord Haldane, speaking at a banquet after Saturday's naval review, said the Dominions across the seas were organizing for war on the same lines as adopted in Great Britain. Our forces now had to be so disposed as to protect the overseas dominions, but the time will come, and the speaker thought that very soon, when the dominions would have to organize their own naval and military defences. That meant we should become by far the most powerful military and naval nation combined as the world has ever seen.

Lord Haldane specially referred to the visit of the Canadian cadets. He said that in the organization of cadet forces England had something to learn from her daughter states.

CANDIDATES NOMINATED.

Frederickton, N. B., June 10.—The Liberals of York county, in convention Saturday, nominated Walter Limerick, George A. Burden, W. J. Osborne and Alex. Little. The government has candidates nominated in every constituency and the opposition in all but Northumberland, but this will be announced in a day or two, it is said.

SCARCITY OF CEMENT IN CANADIAN WEST

Declared to Be Due to Lack of Cars—Company Will Buy
Vessels

Toronto, June 10.—J. M. Kilbourne, vice-president of the Canada Cement Company, when interviewed here, made a statement as to the company's side of the controversy regarding the scarcity of cement in the west.

"The matter," said Mr. Kilbourne, "is not one of tariffs at all, but of transportation. There is a chronic scarcity of cars in Canada during the working period of the year. At the present moment the Canada Cement Company has in store over a million barrels of cement which have been accumulating since the close of navigation last year, at Montreal, Owen Sound, Hull and Port Colborne. That cement will not be needed to supply the eastern demand, and we would be extremely glad were we in a position to send it west immediately. There will be plenty of cement for Ontario and the eastern provinces, and if the railway companies could haul our accumulated stock there would be plenty of cement also for the entire west—At Calgary and Edmonton we have plants turning out 50,000 barrels of cement a month. We have a grinding mill at Winnipeg with a capacity of 2,000 barrels a day. We purpose to add to that plant a burning plant so that we will be able to make cement complete on the spot.

"The transportation problem is, however, our real difficulty, and the board of the Canada Cement Company has adopted a resolution to purchase or build four vessels immediately, to be used exclusively in the company's trade. They will have a capacity of full canal size, and will on each trip carry over 2,000 tons of cement west, bringing wheat east to Port Colborne and coal from Port Colborne to the company's Ontario and Quebec cement plants.

"We expect to be able to purchase some at least of these ships immediately, and those that cannot be purchased will be built before next season."

FISHING VILLAGES PROBABLY DESTROYED

STEAMER'S PASSENGERS
HAVE THRILLING TRIP

Tell of Eruption of Alaskan
Volcano—Vessel Steams
Through Falling Ashes

Seward, Alaska, June 10.—Passengers on the mail steamer Dora, which arrived from the westward yesterday after passing through a hail of ashes from Katmai volcano, believe that several small fishing villages on the shores of Shelikof Strait were destroyed by the eruption. The revenue cutter service at Unalaska has been asked to send assistance. The Dora steamed into the harbor yesterday, the white covering of ashes giving her the appearance of a phantom ship.

The people on the steamer had a thrilling experience as they steamed through the falling ashes, at times nearly suffocating from the poisonous gases which filled the air.

The Dora was in sight of Katmai when the eruption began, and those on the vessel witnessed a brilliant spectacle. The first evidence that the volcano was preparing to free itself of the rocks and lava that choked its throat after long years of inactivity came early Thursday when the Alaska peninsula was rocked by a violent earthquake. The night before the Dora was at Cold Bay, only fifteen miles south-west of the slumbering volcano, and across Shelikof Strait to Kodiak, when the eruption began.

It was 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and the mountain was in plain view. Frequent earthquakes disturbed the water of the strait when suddenly a terrific explosion occurred in the distant mountain and a great mass of rocks was thrown into the air. The first explosion was followed by others in quick succession. Each one seemed more terrific than the one before, and in a short time a steady stream of rocks and ashes was pouring out of the peak and spreading far over the surrounding country, obscuring the sun and shutting off from view the troubled mountain. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the Dora was 70 miles from the volcano, total darkness came and the ashes began to fall in a cloud upon the deck, covering it in a short time with a white layer that increased in thickness until it was three inches deep.

The stifling atmosphere gave the passengers violent headaches, and the whole ship's company was in misery while all night long the Dora steamed through the dust-laden air. Mount Katmai, the eruption began Thursday afternoon there has been a constant hail of ashes and stones over a wide area, the finer particles having been carried by the wind as far as Sitka, 700 miles east of the volcano. The dense clouds of smoke and ashes have turned day into darkest night throughout a radius of 500 miles from Mount Katmai. The unnatural darkness and the stifling volcanic dust that fills the air combine to make navigation in the affected area hazardous and it will be difficult for rescuers of fishermen and cannery employees to proceed along the shores of Shelikof Strait while the volcano is in action.

In spite of the perils of venturing into the danger zone, the revenue cutter Manning is already groping her way toward the northwestern shore of Kodiak island to give assistance to the distressed inhabitants and to obtain accurate information concerning their plight. The Manning is equipped with wireless, but atmospheric conditions are such that the instruments are almost worthless, only the brief information that the residents of the town of Kodiak, the safest place on the island, were safe, having been received.

Passengers on the mail steamer Dora, which arrived at Seward yesterday, after passing through the hail of ashes which the eruption was at its height, gave interesting accounts of the awe-some spectacle.

"The scenes in the volcanic zone were the grandest and most terrifying I have ever seen," said Mayor William A. Gilmore, of Nome, when he landed at Seward. "The flaming mountain rivalled the imaginative conceptions of Dante's Inferno. I fear everything within a wide radius of the volcano has perished. The flashes of the volcano explosions were followed by terrific electric storms, which awed and depressed the passengers on the Dora."

Relief Sent.

Seattle, Wash., June 10.—Definite news is anxiously awaited of conditions along the shores of Shelikof Strait, where Katmai volcano has been hurling ashes and hot stones over the fertile agricultural land in Kodiak, Afognak and Raspberry islands.

Since the eruption began Thursday afternoon there has been a constant hail of ashes and stones over a wide area, the finer particles having been carried by the wind as far as Sitka, 700 miles east of the volcano.

WAITERS' STRIKE.

Pickets Will Take Photographs of Men
Who Desert the Union.

New York, June 10.—Striking waiters, who will do picket duty to-day near the hotels and restaurants in which they formerly were employed, will carry concealed under their coats small cameras. Whenever they see a former member of the union who has forsaken the strike, they will take a picture of the man. The men so photographed, it is said, will be ostracized by members of the waiters' union. This plan was decided on by the waiters at a mass meeting.

An unsuccessful effort was made last night to break up the dinner given the visiting German naval officers at the clubhouse of the Deutscher Verein. A representative of the waiters' union managed to get work as an extra waiter for last night's dinner, his object being to try to persuade the regular club waiters to walk out as soon as the dinner began. His appeal was without result and the dinner was served without interruption.

CHANGE OF WIND SAVES GOLDEN

TOWN WAS THREATENED
BY FOREST FIRE

Citizens Turn Out to Assist in Checking Spread of Flames

Golden, B. C., June 10.—Only the shifting of the wind yesterday saved Golden from destruction in a forest fire which started Saturday morning across the Columbia river from the mill of the Columbia River Lumber Company. The blaze for a time on Saturday evening was headed directly for Golden and the town appeared in imminent danger. A call was sent out to all citizens to turn out and business was virtually at a standstill. Several of the fire-fighters were reported missing, causing considerable excitement for several hours. All turned up later, however.

The powder house of the Columbia River Company was blown up. The blaze still is causing residents in the neighborhood much anxiety, but danger of destruction of any part of the town is believed past.

The conflagration destroyed Camp Fourteen, a construction camp, and approximately 50,000 feet of logs, but the standing timber is said to have been little damaged. About 225 men were employed in fighting the fire and the fire wardens in charge of Theodore Wadman, of Revelstoke, lent all possible assistance.

Another forest fire is raging on the Blue river, about twelve miles west of Golden. It was reported to be about nine miles square.

Two years ago the Columbia River Company's mill was destroyed by fire, but was rebuilt and is now considered one of the best equipped in the province, being operated by electricity. The company has had a logging railroad under construction since last year on the west side of the river. The logging railway has been operated now for some months.

FRENCH AVIATOR AND PASSENGER KILLED

Monoplane Falls 500 Feet
During Trial Flight
in France

Mourmelon, France, July 10.—Kimmerling, one of the best known aviators, and an engineer, Tonnela, who was flying with him as a passenger, were instantly killed yesterday by a fall from a height of 500 feet. Kimmerling was trying out a new monoplane.

PASSENGER KILLED IN RAILWAY WRECK

Three Others Sustain Injuries in Collision on the Grand Trunk

Lindsay, Ont., June 10.—One passenger was instantly killed and three injured in a rear-end collision on the Cobokan branch of the Grand Trunk railway on Saturday evening, when a double-header, in charge of Conductor Roach, crashed into a passenger train standing at Grass Hill station.

The rear coach, telescoped the second, Reeve Steele, of Eldon, who is also warden of the county, and J. B. Stacey, clerk of Eldon, occupied the rear coach, but threw themselves on the floor and thus escaped the flying splinters of the car.

DISCUSSION ON CHURCH UNION

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY
RECEIVES REPORT

Although Majority Favors Proposal, Final Action Will Be Delayed

Edmonton, Alta., June 10.—The crucial discussion on the church union question is occurring at the Preston general assembly this afternoon. Although a large percentage of the delegates are favorable to the proposal the final issue will not be pushed this year, the members favorable to the cause contenting themselves in arranging for a definite plan of co-operation with the object of ultimate organic union.

Every delegate in the city was said to be present at 2:30 p. m., when Dr. Clark rose to speak and the interest was very deep and keen. In addition to the members of the court, many visitors and citizens of Edmonton attended. Dr. Clark presented his report to the large committee named last Thursday and made a strong appeal for union. Principal Mackay seconded the motion to receive the report. This statement, which will be read with interest by members of the three churches in all parts of Canada, was as follows:

The committee recommends the following as the deliverance of the assembly.

The assembly rejoice at the large measure of agreement among the negotiating churches, which the proceedings of the recent years have disclosed and which it believes will prepare the way for a larger measure of union among Christ's people in this land than at present exists. The assembly believes that the fact that a large majority of those voting have declared themselves in favor of organic union, is a strong indication that the result of the present movement will be the consummation of such a union. It pledges itself to do all in its power to maintain and deepen the unity of spirit which has marked the course of negotiators and to continue to promote the fraternal intercourse and conference with the other churches which have made the present vote possible. In view of the existence of the minority, which is not yet convinced that organic union is the best method of expressing the unity sincerely desired by all, the assembly deems it unwise to proceed immediately to consummate the union. It believes that by further conference and discussion practically unanimous action can be secured within a reasonable time and meanwhile resolves as follows:

1.—That it be an instruction to the home mission committee to arrange with the other negotiating churches for the further delimitation of territory within which they shall severally establish new missions as well as for the fuller application of the principle of co-operation already adopted by the assembly.

2.—That it be an instruction to the foreign mission committee to confer with the mission boards of the other churches with a view to co-operation in every possible way.

3.—That similar instruction be given to the board of social service and evangelism.

4.—That it be an instruction to the commission charged with the problems of the church, to enter into correspondence with similar committees of the other churches as to the possibility of combining their work in whole or in part.

5.—That it be an instruction to the board of the colleges to consider the possibility of co-operation with the colleges of other churches situated in the same localities so as to avoid unnecessary duplication in teaching.

6.—That the union committee be authorized, in conjunction with the other negotiating churches, to provide for the oversight of union congregations not originally connected with any of the three churches.

7.—That all suggestions made by Presbyterians session or individuals, or may be made before November, 1912, be referred to the union committee for their consideration in the hope of removing objection and with a view to further conference with committees of the negotiating churches.

The following names be added to the union to fill the vacancies: Principal Mackay, Rev. J. A. Clark, Rev. R. G. MacBeth, Rev. Dr. A. S. Grant, Lt.-Col. Macrae, Hamilton Cassell, Edward Brown, Jas. Gibson, Jas. Rogers and James Balfour. Thus instituting the whole committee as follows: Dr. W. J. Clarke, principal convenor; Dr. Ramsay, vice-convenor; Dr. Forrester, Dr. Sedgwick, Dr. John Macmillan, Dr. Smith, Dr. T. S. Stewart, Dr. T. C. Jack, James Ross Anderson, Dr. McOdram, Dr. A. L. Love, Dr. Robert Campbell, Principal Scriver, Prof. Welch, R. W. Dickie, Dr. Armstrong, Dr. Herdridge, Principal Gordon, Dr. McGillivray, President Falconer, Principal Gaudin, Dr. Milligan, Dr. R. P. Mackay, Prof. Kilpatrick, Deacon Ballantine, Dr. Summerville, Dr. J. L. Murray, Dr. A. S. Grant, Dr. Strachan, Dr. Fletcher, Dr. Lyle, Dr. Ratcliff, R. G. MacBeth, Dr. Duval, Prof. Bryce, J. A. ## DEPOSED REBEL LEADER ARRESTED

TAKEN AFTER CROSSING
MEXICAN BORDER

Is Wanted by Government on Charge of Embezzling Funds
While Consul

El Paso, Tex., June 10.—Gonzales C. Enrile, deposed financial executive of the Mexican revolution, fleeing from vengeful enemies in the rebel zone, who tried to kill him, into fancied security into the United States, was arrested yesterday by C. H. Webster, a Texas ranger, as he crossed the international bridge from Juarez.

Enrile, once the right hand man of General Orozco, author of a caustic anti-American proclamation and chief promoter of the present revolution, is a prisoner of the United States authorities. His arrest was ordered by the Mexican federal government which charges Enrile with embezzlement of funds while consul under President Diaz at Clifton, Arizona, 18 months ago. His extradition on this charge would place him at the mercy of the Mexican government for his political acts.

Enrile handled the funds of the revolution for three months and admittedly made many enemies, finally being repudiated by General Orozco.

Weak from two knife wounds and a bullet hole in his shoulder, sustained in an encounter with two unknown assailants in the city of Chihuahua three weeks ago, Enrile doubted the intentions of his physicians and sought medical treatment in the United States. He applied to Marion F. Letcher, the American consul in Chihuahua, for safe conduct to the United States, but the latter declared the matter outside his jurisdiction. Preceded by a telegram announcing his death, early Saturday, which was intended to foil his Juarez enemies, Enrile was placed secretly Saturday night aboard a train in Chihuahua and taken to Juarez. He would have escaped the rebel officials there only for the watchfulness of Captain Carlos Gonzales, chief investigation officer in Juarez. Gonzales immediately arrested Enrile, taking him before Col. Jose Orozco, head of the garrison, who, notwithstanding the safe conduct issued by his cousin, General Pascual Orozco, head of the rebellion, made preparations to execute Enrile. On bended knees the fugitive then begged for his life, beseeching Col. Pascual Orozco, son, father of the military leader, to get into communication with his son in Chihuahua. The elder Orozco did so and finally released Enrile.

Early yesterday, Gonzales, the man who blocked Enrile's escape, was found dead in a resort with a bullet through his brain. The general impression is that the friends of Enrile caused Gonzales' death, fearing he might kill Enrile despite the instructions from rebel headquarters.

"You might as well get General Orozco now," said Enrile grimly, as Texas Ranger Webster led him to the county jail. "I came only for medical treatment, but if the Mexican federal government gets me, the revolution has lost its personal friend and supporter."

Though Enrile's flight by no means indicates the collapse of the rebel cause, it is admitted here that it bears out the reports of disorganization and internal intrigues which the rebels are said to be struggling.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH BY REBELS

Englishman Tells of Outrages by Roving Bands in Mexico

Phoenix, Ariz., June 10.—With a story of how his wife and two babies were burned to death in their home near Topic by roving bands of rebels, George Arnold Brown, an Englishman, passed through Phoenix yesterday on his way to Los Angeles, where he will lay his case before the British consul.

Brown said the rebels set fire to his plantation and his entire family perished. The rebels then either killed or drove off all of Brown's livestock. He declared conditions in and around the city of Topic and in the state of that same name were horrible.

VANCOUVER MAN DROWNED.

Losses Life When Trying to Recover
Boat Which Had Gone Adrift.

Vancouver, June 10.—George Mortimer, a well known Vancouverite, member of the plumbing firm of Mortimer Bros., met death on Saturday evening near Eagle Harbor in Howe Sound. He was out on the yacht Volage with a party of friends. Their engine had stopped on account of some trouble and their craft was moving slowly under sail, there being a very light wind. The dinghy got adrift and Mr. Mortimer, taking off his shoes, leaped into the water and started to swim for the loose boat. His idea was to get in and row to the yacht, his action being taken to avoid loss of time for the larger boat. The latter rounded a point and lost sight of Mr. Mortimer and the dinghy. A little later a launch came up with the yacht. The launch was towing the lost dinghy, but saw nothing of Mortimer. Search was made, but no sign of Mortimer could be found.

ONTARIO PRISON FARM.

Fort William, June 10.—It has been decided to locate the new prison farm in Neelburg township. The new institution will cost $50,000 and 600 acres will be cleared.

WILL NOT CEDE ISLAND TO GERMANY

Report That Italy Was Preparing to Transfer Territory is Denied in Paris

Paris, June 10.—Quite a flutter of excitement was caused here by reports from Russia that Italy was preparing to cede to Germany one of her newly-acquired islands in the Aegean Sea. The highest authorities, however, contradict this report, the realization of which would be regarded by France and Great Britain as inevitably causing a European war.

The approaching visit of the French prime minister, Raymond Poincare, to Russia is now practically decided upon as its details. It is regarded here as wiping out completely the recent diplomatic chill in the relations between the Russian court and the Quai d'Orsay, and as giving fresh vim and enthusiasm to the popular and absolute necessary dual alliance.

TAFT GETS MORE
CONTESTED DELEGATES

Report That Roosevelt Will Visit Chicago During the Week

Chicago, June 10.—Forty-eight was the total number of delegates to the Republican National convention turned into the "Taft column" by the national committee's decision Saturday on contests from Arkansas, Florida and Georgia. The Roosevelt contestants lost every case, as they did Friday. Ten of the Georgia districts—twenty delegates—went to Taft in one blanket decision, both sides agreeing to their being decided upon the same arguments as had served in the case of the four delegates at large, who had just been given to Taft. The two remaining Georgia districts, with their two apiece, soon went the same way.

With the delegates—sixteen from Alabama and eight from Arkansas—placed on the temporary roll of the convention as the result of Friday's hearings Saturday's work runs up the total of 72 added to the Taft list since the national committee convened on Thursday. The arrival of William Flynn, of Pittsburgh, the departure of George W. Perkins for Ohio, an all day conference of a score of prominent leaders and the announcement that a demonstration in Chicago for their candidate would take place next Wednesday, marked the activities Saturday of the Roosevelt campaign managers. The Roosevelt headquarters held the centre of the stage, aside from the deliberations of the national committee, and Sunday further interest was aroused by the semi-official announcement that next Thursday Colonel Roosevelt would be in charge, possibly earlier.

The information that Colonel Roosevelt would arrive about the middle of the week came from several apparently authoritative sources, although United States Senator Dixon, director of the Roosevelt campaign, said he did not think the former president would be on hand. Geo. W. Perkins, just before his departure, was quoted as saying he had made hotel reservations for Colonel Roosevelt, John J. V. Clinlin, an officer of the Spanish-American veterans, also said he had received information on direct authority from Oyster Bay that Colonel Roosevelt would address on Thursday night a Chicago reunion of the veterans.

G. N. R. SECURES
CONTROL OF LINE

Agreement With Great Northern Regarding Road Between the Fraser and Port Kelly

Vancouver, June 10.—Before leaving the city Sir William Mackenzie notified the executive here that the Canadian Northern Railway had acquired control of the Great Northern line between Port Kells and the railway bridge across the Fraser at New Westminster, and that work on the proposed railway improvements at Port Mann could be proceeded with without further delay. The deal just closed will obviate the necessity of the C. N. R. building a section of line eight miles long. Construction of the main line eastward was started at Port Kells, the question of building an independent line down to the railway bridge remaining in abeyance pending the result of the negotiations with the G. N. R. Prior to the construction of the cut-off via Boundary Bay, the main line of the Hill system ran to Blaine via Port Kells and Cloverdale. For the past few years the section from the railway bridge to Cloverdale has been operated as a branch line. There has been talk of the C. N. R. taking over the line as far south as Cloverdale, but the present deal only affects the section between the railway bridge and Port Kells. The Hill line over the Hope Mountains also secures running rights over the main line of the C. N. R. between Hope and Sumas Mountain.

Preliminary plans of the railway yards in Port Mann prepared by the engineering department here make provision for 30 miles of tracks. The terminals will be constructed this summer. Reports are again in circulation that the passenger and freight terminals of the C. N. R. will be located in the east end of False Creek, adjacent to the G. N. R. holdings, and that entrance will be effected by double-tracking the Hill line between New Westminster and Vancouver. Parties closely identified with the C. N. R. have recently been purchasing property along both sides of Main street, on the south side of the creek. The purchases are made for investment purposes as the land will not be required for railway purposes.

INDIAN CHIEF
TAKES DESPERADO

The Suspected Murderer Was
Wearing Dead Officer's Coat
When Captured

Calgary, Alta., June 10.—Jim Ham, a notorious Indian desperado, who is under arrest charged with the murder of Constable Davis, of the R. N. W. M. P., near Southesk, was wearing the uniform of the murdered officer when captured. The red tunic contained a ragged bullet hole over the left breast, bearing mute testimony to the manner in which the officer met his death while on duty. With Ham, charged with being accomplices to the murder, are his brother, Joe Ham, who also bears a bad reputation, and an Indian squaw with a little papoose in her arms, all of whom were with Jim Ham when he shot the constable.

The arrest of the desperado, following the shooting was almost as sensational as the actual murder itself, which still appears to be shrouded more or less in mystery. From the time that Constable Davis left on his ride after the Indians, until his dead body, stripped of uniform and arms and ammunition was found on the trail, no one has been found who can tell what actually happened.

The men under arrest plead ignorance through intoxication, but the fact remains that when he arrived at the Indian coal mine near the big irrigation dam, and in regular old time style held a war dance, and shot up the tepees there, Jim Ham was riding the horse of the dead policeman and was dressed in his uniform and had his revolver and ammunition belt.

The arrest was effected by Chief Buckskin, of the Blood Indian reserve, who stole up behind Jim Ham and roped him while the latter was delivering an impassioned oration to the braves whom he had previously sent scurrying to cover with a fusillade of bullets, telling them of his deeds of prowess, pointing to horse, uniform and arms as proof, and telling them that he would be their leader in a general uprising.

ARGE AGAINST NESBITT.

Hearing Before Magistrate Will Be Postponed Until June 18.

Toronto, June 10.—When the case of Dr. Beattie Nesbitt comes up on Friday next there will be another postponement. George T. Blackstock, K. C., has found that he is unable to go on that day, and after the case had been adjourned Thursday arrangements were made with the magistrate to go on with the case on Tuesday, June 18.

LADY SYKES DEAD.

London, June 10.—The death is announced of Lady Sykes, wife of Sir Tatton Sykes, whom she married in 1874, when she was 18 years old. Lady Sykes had a remarkable career. She was a brilliant society leader and an authoress and editor of a newspaper. She was an hospital nurse in South Africa during the war. She was formerly Miss Christina Cavendish Bentinck, daughter of the Rt. Hon. George August Cavendish Bentinck.

WORK IN KOREA

Governor-General Exonerates
Missionaries From Any Connection With Conspiracy

Seoul, June 10.—General Count Terauchi, Japanese governor-general of Korea, quietly visited P'yongyang Saturday and met the American missionaries, to whom he explained the Japanese government's attitude on the Christian movement in Korea. Count Terauchi said the stories concerning a conspiracy on the part of Korean Christians against his life were unquestionably true, but that the utmost leniency had been exercised towards those having connection with it. He gave the missionaries his personal assurances there had been no torture of prisoners. Count Terauchi said the government exonerated the missionaries from any connection with the conspiracy and told them he would cooperate with them in their work. The missionaries expressed their deep satisfaction with the governor-general and their confidence in him.

DENTIST ACQUITTED.

Found Not Guilty of Being Implicated in Murder of Barker.

Centralia, Wash., June 10.—Adelbert B. Clark, murderer of Lawrence Bar, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of this city on the night of December 30 last, was arraigned in the Lewis county superior court on Saturday and allowed to plead guilty to a charge of second degree murder. He was sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge A. E. Rice.

Dr. F. D. Johnson, the dentist, acquitted Friday night of the charge of being implicated in the killing of Bar, says he will continue his dental office in Centralia and force those who believed him guilty to acknowledge his innocence.

The Burns Detective Agency, the sheriff's office and Prosecuting Attorney Buxton were given a terrific "raking" by Attorney Maurice Langhorne, counsel for Dr. Johnson, in his closing remarks to the jury.

THREE INJURED.

Tacoma, Wash., June 10.—After having been hurled from an automobile fifty feet into a gully on the Mount Tacoma road three injured persons were brought to the city on Saturday by three other passengers who escaped with only slight bruises.

J. Lund had two ribs fractured and his hip bruised, Fred Smith was cut about the head and injured on one foot, and August Cultum, who was driving, was bruised about the body.

ANTI-TREATING LAW VALID.

Olympia, Wash., June 10.—The Tacoma, anti-treating ordinance is valid. The Supreme Court ruled so on Saturday in upholding a conviction in a Tacoma justice court. It was shown that a saloonman had served drinks to two persons and one had paid for the liquor. The court says the regulation of "treating" is permissible, and that it is not violating any right of any individual.

What the Salesman Tells
You About the Heintzman & Co., Piano

May be depended upon because it represents the utmost in experience, materials and expert workmanship. The place it holds with the world's greatest artists is paralleled only by the place it holds in the hearts and homes of citizens of culture the Dominion over. No other piano has been so highly praised by those capable of judging of the merits of a piano. Visiting artists of note invariably indicate the Heintzman & Co. piano as their choice. There are good reasons for this.

PREPARING MEN FOR MINISTRY

PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGES
SUBMIT REPORTS

Home Mission Work — Increased Cost of Living Keenly Felt

Edmonton, June 10.—The colleges of the church were considered in the assembly on Saturday, the discussion of Thursday last being resumed. Queen's University and Knox College, of Toronto, and Manitoba College of Winnipeg; Robertson College, Edmonton, and Westminster Hall, Vancouver, gave reports of the work done during the year in the preparation of young men for the ministry.

Knox College reported that the old building on Spadina avenue has been sold for $225,000. The new building will cost about $400,000.

No appointment is made for the position of principal of Manitoba College. The synod of Alberta at a meeting held here nominated Rev. Dr. W. D. Reid for this position. The name of Rev. Dr. Drummond, minister of St. Paul's church, Hamilton, is also mentioned in the assembly as a possible appointee.

Westminster Hall, of Vancouver, an institution now four years old, is engaged in the erection of a new building in the vicinity of the provincial university. Twenty young men are enrolled in the classes of the college.

The subject of home missions was introduced. The salaries paid to students, ordained missionaries and ministers in augmented classes will be increased. The advance in the cost of living is keenly felt, especially by men on the frontier, and a number of excellent ministers have been forced into secular life to obtain the necessities of life.

"We recognize that it would be unwise to consummate organic union at the present time, but we urge co-operation along the lines of colleges, home and foreign, and all other branches of religious work, with organic union in view. Co-operation of that kind has a different and higher view than co-operation as a substitute for organic unions. We want the members of other negotiating churches to understand that whatever misapprehension may have been caused by any previous utterances this church is passing towards organic union with the negotiating churches, and we are hopeful and confident of the ultimate consummation of organic union, believing that it is a duty laid upon us in the interest of the church of Christ as far as those duties are entrusted to our care."

In these words Principal Gordon, of Kingston, vice convener of the church union committee, yesterday summed up the report presented to the Presbyterian General Assembly, dealing with the decision of the union committee. There was vigorous opposition from Dr. Campbell, of Montreal, and Dr. Mackay, of Vancouver, who objected to the report being named, as there were a number of members of the committee who had not received any notification of the meeting. He for one was not notified, said Dr. Campbell, and while he did not mind it being called a report of the majority of those present, he strongly objected to it being accepted as the report of the whole committee. In this, Moderator McQueen agreed and ruled accordingly. In the end, the report was referred to a large committee. The moderator will name the committee this week, but the date when the report will come up again, has not been set.

Dr. Bryce, Dr. Baird, Dr. Duval, Edward Brown, John Ross, deputy minister of education for Alberta, and Rev. Duncan Campbell spoke at a reunion of the graduates of Manitoba College Friday night at the Corona hotel. The meeting was the largest ever held at an assembly.

At the foreign missions meeting the speakers were: Andrew Thomson, of Hong Kong; Rev. Mr. M. India; Rev. Mr. McWhinney, of Crowstan, Sask.; and Rev. Donald McGillivray, of Shanghai. Dr. E. A. McCurdy, of Halifax, and Principal Gaudier, of Toronto, also spoke.

On Saturday afternoon the assembly took a recess in accordance with the immemorial custom, and the local committees entertaining the visitors by a steamboat trip up the river.

Rev. Dr. R. P. Mackay, moderator last year, and one of the best known ministers of the church, is seriously ill here. He preached the opening sermon at the risk of his life, and would have been present at the great foreign mission Friday night had he not been absolutely forbidden by the physicians to leave the house. He became ill on the way to the assembly, and was taken from the train at Medicine Hat. He recovered sufficiently to come on and do his work at the beginning of the assembly, since that time he has been in bed.

KILLED BY AUTO.

Edmonton, Alta., June 10.—A 3-year-old boy named Ted Schmitz, was crushed to death on Jasper avenue by a touring car which passed over his body. The car was filled with passengers. Spectators say that the car was not running at a fast rate of speed. Where the accident took place is one of the most traffic congested parts of the city.

SKELETONS UNEARTHED.

London, June 10.—Eighteen skeletons were unearthed Friday by workmen at Chester. They were at a depth of four feet. The site was undoubtedly used by the Twentieth Legion of Romans during its occupation of the city. With the skeletons were found several Roman sandals, which were wonderfully preserved; also some Roman pottery tiles and bottles.

SETTLER VICTIM OF RIFLE ACCIDENT

Doctor Makes Sixty-Mile Trip but Arrives Too Late

Lac Ste. Anne, Alta., June 10.—Two distressing shooting accidents occurred within a short distance of this place within 48 hours, in the first of which Andrew J. Hattick, a homesteader lately out from Newcastle-on-Tyne, lost his life, and in the second of which Andy Hattick, the ferryman at the Narrows of Lac Ste. Anne, shattered his arm hopelessly between the elbow and shoulder.

Hattick, who arrived from the Old Country only a few days ago, and who took up a homestead 15 miles to the west of Lac Ste. Anne, was emerging from the door of his tent when the trigger of his .22 calibre rifle which he carried in his hand, caught in some of the rigging, discharging the bullet into his body. Help was sent for at once. Owing, however, to the fact that a 45-mile drive in an automobile had to be made and after a 15-mile trip in a democrat, it was fully 24 hours before the doctor arrived, and by that time the injured man was beyond hope.

The other accident occurred when Ferryman Hattick, drawing a loaded shotgun toward him, discharged the contents of the barrel into his arm. Dr. Rippen's presence to care of Hattick, was probably responsible for the saving of Hattick's life, as he was immediately summoned, and giving temporary relief, started the injured man out for Edmonton.

MOUNT ROYAL TUNNEL.

Third Rail May Be Used—Three Types of Electrification Being Considered.

Montreal, June 8.—Strolling beneath Mount Royal, by way of the projected C.N.R. tunnel, may be rather a risky business even aside from the interference of the trains. W. C. Lancaster, electrical and mechanical engineer for the Montreal Tunnel and Terminal, is now considering three types of electrification which may be adopted for the tunnel, and the third rail system may be adopted. The New York Central has the third rail method, using a direct current with low voltage. Tunnel trains can start only when all the doors are closed and the motorman need not worry about jamming fingers. If the engineer runs past a block system the train will stop automatically.

The motorman is very thoughtfully provided with an ingenious contrivance known as the Dead Man's But-

HOLDING BACK THE CITY.

As in the working out of nearly every agreement and contract entered into by the McBride government, the bargain made with the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway Company respecting the rights of the company in the Songhees Reserve has brought development to an impasse. The company knows what it wants and understands what it can legally lay claim to in the reserve, but the government is apparently unwilling to concede its claims. The interviews given out by Sir William Mackenzie, brief and un-revealing as they were, made the fact sufficiently clear that the company intends to insist on its rights but is considerably giving the government time to see what can be done with those "other parties who have to be considered." There is nothing in any of Sir William's published statements which leaves open the door of hope that his company intends to relinquish any of the rights it has obtained under its agreements with the government, nor can there be very much doubt that Sir William's understanding of these agreements comes into conflict with what Hon. Richard McBride has given the public to understand will be accomplished in the final disposition of the reserve. Otherwise, why should there be needed more time for consideration of the wishes of the "other parties" in the case?

So far as Premier McBride is concerned, the most explicit statement he has made is, in effect, that he and Sir William have proceeded far enough in the discussion of their differences of opinion to have reached a point where they can "visualize" the future. That is not very satisfactory nor even very promising. The public of Victoria has been "visualizing" the future of the Songhees Reserve, and incidentally of the city of Victoria, in the light of Premier McBride's promises for a long time. Its "visualizations" included dreams of "the whole of the reserve being required for railway purposes" and—by the careful encouragement and tutelage of the organs which speak for Mr. McBride—these visions included dreams of a magnificent depot where all the vast interests of "one thousand miles of railway on Vancouver Island" must centre. They included dreams of "one of the largest railway depots on the continent of America," according to the chief government organ. Mr. McBride, however, has only now reached the point of discussion with the interests represented in Sir William Mackenzie where he can "visualize" these things himself. And it is not these things that he now says he can visualize. It is only the approximate understanding on which the conflicting rights of one railway company may possibly be reconciled with those of "other parties who have to be considered." Not a very hopeful outlook for the settlement of the reserve question.

It is in this connection that two statements, one made by Mr. T. G. Holt, executive agent of the company, and the other by Sir William—must be interpreted. Mr. Holt said: "I cannot state what our plans are for the future or what contracts are to be let." He thought the plans involved a contract on the Mainland and one on the Island, but added: "It must be remembered that at the present time we have a tremendous amount of work on hand and can only take on more after we get through with what we have."

Sir William, however, was not so reticent as to the company's operations. He said: "We are located at 47 mile post, and you can say that we will come into the city as soon as things are fixed so as to render our entry possible. Had it been possible we would be there now." That is to say, the delay in grading and track laying into the city is not the fault of the Canadian Northern Pacific, but arises wholly because of a difference of opinion between Mr. McBride on what Sir William called "a personal question between the provincial government and the other parties interested." Though the language is not explicit, it leaves no doubt that Mr. McBride has something up his sleeve of a "personal" nature which—though he will not tell the public—he has been obliged to tell Sir William. Sir William, Gallo-like, dismissed the whole matter with the suave assurance that "everything will come to Victoria in time." Of course he means when Mr. McBride has had time to extricate himself from some of the complications in which he finds himself with "other parties interested."

It is clear, therefore, that Mr. McBride is wholly responsible for the lack of progress in railway development on the Island and for the delay in initiating the developments that were promised on the Songhees Reserve. Sir William has washed his hands of that responsibility and—with admirable consideration—placed it where it belongs. When we add to these declarations Sir William's statement that "there is no hurry" about the ferry connection with the Mainland, we have the results of Mr. McBride's railway agreements brought home with uncomfortable and unpromising emphasis.

The city of Victoria is in no better position respecting the future development on the Songhees reserve than the city council knows nothing of the plans of the government. It has not been taken into the confidence of the premier, though he is the senior member for this electoral constituency. In common with the railway, it must go blindly or await the moving of the pool of Mr. McBride's muddled thoughts and muddled purposes. The city is undoubtedly losing time and being held back by the perverse manner in which Mr. McBride arrogates to himself the unbending will of an autocrat and commands the sun of Victoria's progress to stand still until, perhaps, the eventide.

Adding these facts to the robbery of Victoria of forty-three acres of land promised to the city by Mr. McBride as early as 1906 and as late as June 3, 1909, when an order-in-council was passed conveying the property, we think the city has a grievance against the premier. We think the situation is one in which the political friends of Mr. McBride should represent to him their disappointment and uneasiness at the present situation. In spite of the frantic efforts of the McBride organs to represent that the calling of attention to these matters is political warfare, we think the supineness of Mr. McBride's friends in the city is "political" and of the worst character in its effects upon the capital. So long as the political forces arrayed behind Mr. McBride permit such travesties of justice and right, just so long will these continue. It is Mr. McBride's overwhelming majority of condescending supporters in the city which makes it possible for the premier to violate his most solemn pledges, obstruct the progress of the city and laugh at the confidence which placed him in power.

VINDICATION.

There can be no more satisfactory testimony to the care exercised by the Liberal government in the awarding of contracts for public works than the ratification of a large number of these contracts by the Borden government last week. So confident were the Borden spoilsmen that graft and maladministration had obtained under the Laurier regime that a number of important public works contracts were held up pending investigation. A "Public Service Commission" was appointed to uncover the reported unsavory details of some of the awards designated as corruptly contracted for. It may be supposed that the selection of contracts to be investigated would be from among such as would promise the most salacious morsels for the scandal-mongers. Yet, after the fullest investigation, these contracts have been confirmed by the new administration, there being no warrant for imputation of either favoritism or graft in awarding the work. The only result of a prying analysis of every feature of the rumored maladministration was the delaying of the work. So favorable were the conditions under which tenders had been accepted and so tangible the evidences of good faith on the part of both government and contractors, that there was not even an excuse for repudiating the terms and awarding the contracts to the political friends of Mr. Borden's ministers without a scandal in the department.

It can, therefore, no longer be contended that the Laurier administration was defeated on its record. The asseverations of graft and favoritism appear to be unfounded and born of political malice. "Hon. Dr. Pugsley can race his tracheas without a blush, his vindication having been most complete and satisfactory."

CANADA AND CRIME.

According to the latest blue book issued by the government dealing with criminal records in Canada, the number of arrests for the year ending September 30, 1910, was 15,305, while the convictions secured numbered 11,700. These numbers are about 200 less in each case than appear in the records of the previous year, though the percentage of convictions is somewhat higher than formerly, indicating, perhaps, the more rigorous enforcement of the criminal laws. The salutary effect of this rigor is shown particularly in prosecutions for the adulteration of food, there being few more than half as many convictions in 1910 as in 1909. Offences against property without violence also show a decrease, which would appear to mean that theft and like crimes have appreciably lessened.

For the last year the number of persons convicted of murder was 21, while 15 were convicted of attempt to murder. Thus the crimes with homicidal purpose or effect the perpetrators of which were brought to justice number 64. The convictions for murder and attempted murder were almost equal to the known crimes committed, showing a creditable efficiency in the discovery of crime as well as of the enforcement of law.

When the large influx of foreign population from countries where crimes against society and against life are not regarded with the same seriousness that they are in Canada—is taken into account the prevalence of law and order is commendable.

The feature of the report which is most worthy of serious consideration is the increase in crime among juveniles. While it is noted that this increase is most conspicuous among the youth of the alien population of the Dominion, it is not confined to these. The establishment of Juvenile Courts will doubtless do a great deal to alleviate these conditions—as much by differentiating between crime with intent and crime resulting from ignorance of law and morals—yet the figures indicate the necessity of devoting more attention to the youth of all classes and the removal of temptation as well as opportunity to go wrong. The organizations interested in the care of the untutored alien child will be stimulated to increase their activities to prevent the development of criminal instincts in these new wards of the state.

Lord Haldane says the Overseas Dominions will soon provide for their own military and naval defence. Canada and Australia are already providing for their own military defence. Australia is undertaking her own naval defence, and Canada would have been alongside of Australia in the same matter if politicians who profess to think Imperialism had not allied themselves with the Nationalists of Quebec to defeat the government which proposed that Canada should no longer lean dependent on the arm of the Mother Country. We have been informed that the Borden Ministry will consult the Admiralty and that the result will doubtless be the adoption of a comprehensive scheme of naval defence. But the fact must not be lost sight of that the Borden government is pledged to its Nationalist allies to submit any scheme it may tentatively adopt to the electorate for endorsement. Doubtless the Nationalists who raised the cry of "conscription" and drew terrible pictures of the dismemberment of French-Canadians fighting the battles of Great Britain if the Laurier naval programme were adopted will do their utmost to defeat any naval scheme submitted to a referendum.

Toronto Globe: The peril of Nationalism and Ultramontanism is sending thinking men in Quebec of both races back to Liberalism. The Eastern Townships were formerly almost exclusively English-speaking, and there is still a very large English population in that part of Quebec. For the first time in the history of the Province, at the recent election every riding in the Eastern Townships returned a Liberal member to the Legislature—fourteen seats, and fourteen Liberals.

The Monetary Times says: "The British Columbia government must maintain better law and order and make finer for criminals the meshes of escape." What? All this after reading the government press on the Borden administration and execution of our laws? Evidently the Monetary Times is not quite so open to conviction as the press-tutored people of British Columbia.

"IT'S THE WATER"

The June White Sale--Tuesday's News

There's a Lively Demand in the Waist Department for Our Lines at 75c, $1.90 and $2.90

WHEN you take into consideration the exceptional high quality of the garments, there's no wonder at the demand. We should be astonished if it were otherwise. In the View street windows we are displaying some of these lines. Really, they are too varied to attempt to describe them in detail, and even if we attempted the task, we couldn't give you an idea, through the use of cold type, that would do justice to the garments.

THREE EXCELLENT LINES AT 75c

PETER PAN WAISTS, made of a good linenette. The fronts are trimmed with a few tucks, and fasten with pearl buttons showing through a box pleat. The collars and turnback cuffs are in sky or navy blue material, and are handsomely embroidered, and finished with scalloped edges. All sizes are here. June sale ..... 75c

A NEAT SAILOR STYLE—These are made of linenette and are very serviceable garments. The collars are pointed at the back and are made of sky blue material with a wide margin of spotted material. Cuffs to match the collar and a blue tie completes this attractive garment. Don't you think it an excellent value for ..... 75c

ANOTHER TASTEFUL STYLE IN MUSLIN—A waist of this description is very rarely seen marked at such a low figure; in fact we don't think you ever saw such a value. They have high necks, three-quarter set-in sleeves, and tucked backs. The fronts have a wide panel of lace down the centre, two bands of insertion on either side, and neat tucking. June sale price ..... 75c

MANY EXCELLENT STYLES ARE SELLING AT $1.90—HERE ARE A FEW OF THEM

Some are all-over lace and are made over a good net. There is a wide panel effect down the front, have high necks and beautiful yokes of lace. The sleeves are set-in, are three-quarter length, and the cuffs give a double sleeve effect. The most prominent trimming is a piping of silk that outlines the centre panel, the sleeves, etc., and gives the garment a rich appearance. Pippings come in colors sky, pink and old gold. All sizes are here, and they are a really fine value at only ..... $1.90

ANOTHER SPLENDID LINE AT $1.90

A very wide assortment is here to choose from. Marquisettes, crossbar muslins and fine lawns are some of the materials, and the styles are all the latest on the market.

Round, Dutch and V-shaped necks are all well represented, and some have three-quarter length sleeves, while others have full length set-in sleeves. All are handsomely embroidered, trimmed with laces, lace insertions and tucks.

VALUES FROM $3.50 TO $7.50, FOR $2.90

A fine assortment to choose from. The materials include rich, plain silks, shot silks, muslins, marquisettes, pongee, and all-over laces lined with silks. As to color, practically everything that is popular this season is included, while the styles are so varied that a detailed description is out of the question. In the silk lines there are scarcely two alike. The muslin and marquisette waists are beautifully embroidered and trimmed with lace insertions and lace edgings. High and low necks, short, long or three-quarter set-in sleeves are represented. Regular values from $3.50 to $7.50, all to go at ..... $2.90

Linen Coats and Muslin Dresses For Women

MANY FINE STYLES ARE HERE, AND THE JUNE SALE BRINGS WELCOME LOW PRICES

PLAIN TAILORED LINEN COATS—These are in natural color, are strongly made, and are just the weight that most women want for wearing during the warm weather. We are now showing them in the View street windows, but if you would like a closer inspection, we shall be pleased to show them to you in the department. They come in most sizes and two grades. Prices $5.00 and ..... $6.75

LINEN COATS THAT ARE LEATHER TRIMMED—The colored leather collars and cuffs give to these garments a neat and novel appearance that is pleasing. The favorite color for the trimmings are green and tans, but otherwise these garments are strictly plain. Price, per garment, only ..... $9.75

ALLOVER EMBROIDERED DRESSES GO ON SALE TUESDAY AT $5.90

That these are a wonderful value few women will doubt when they see the garments. They come in all sizes, and are beautifully trimmed with laces and insertions. The skirts are not too wide, and not too scant, just the styles that are so popular now. For beauty and solid comfort, these light and airy dresses will take some beating, especially at this price ..... $5.90

The June Sale of Silks Brims Over With Desirable Specials

WOMEN who are interested in buying silks will welcome these reductions. However, the price is not the only attraction by any means, the quality of the goods justifies us in claiming that the June sale is bringing some of the best values that have been offered in Victoria for a very long time. Here are a few items that should make Tuesday morning exceptionally busy.

BLACK TAFFETA, 20 in. wide, and a quality that we sell regularly at 60c a yard. Tuesday's special price ..... 37½c

BLACK TAFFETA—This material has a fine chiffon finish. It is 20 in. wide and a value that sells regularly at 75c a yard. Special sale price ..... 50c

BLACK CHIFFON TAFFETA—This is a splendid silk, has a chiffon finish, is 28 in. wide, and is an excellent black. Regular value $1.50 per yard. Special ..... $1.00

BLACK PALETTE, 20 in. wide, and a handsome silk with a bright finish. We have been selling this same material at $1 a yard, and consider it an excellent value. Special sale price ..... 75c

BLACK SATIN, 22 in. wide and a regular $1 value. Sale price ..... 75c

BLACK BROCADE SILK—A choice selection of different patterns are here. They come in fancy stripes and broadened designs. Regular price $1.50. Special sale price ..... $1.15

500 YARDS OF FANCY JACQUARDS—These fabrics come in a variety of self colors, and have a small woven figure decoration. They are very popular, and are an excellent quality. A grade that we sell regularly at 50c a yard will be sold at ..... 25c

SOME REMARKABLE BARGAINS IN NATURAL PONGEE—5000 YARDS GO ON SALE TUESDAY

25-INCH PONGEE—This pongee has a nice even weave and is comparatively free from dressing. This is an unusual feature in a low priced pongee, consequently it is really worth much more than we are asking. Good for making dresses or waists and will render fine service. Tuesday's sale price ..... 30c

34-INCH PONGEE—We consider that this is an exceptionally fine value. It has the weight of many silks that we have easily sold at 50c a yard, and is free from checks and faults. We recommend this line. Per yard ..... 50c

A 30-INCH SUITING PONGEE—This is a heavy quality, and a clean looking cloth. Has an excellent finish, and will please you, no matter how exacting you may be. Per yard on Tuesday ..... $1.00

34-INCH COATING PONGEE, with a fine lustrous finish, will wash well and is an extra heavy and durable quality. A rare value at ..... $1.50

There Is No Better Time to Buy Your Bathing Suit

WOMEN'S BATHING SUITS, made of a good lustre and neatly trimmed with bands of fancy lustre of a contrasting color. There are plain blue and plain cardinal garments to be had if you desire them. Price, each ..... $3.50

GYMNASIA AND SWIMMING COSTUMES in cardinal and navy blue. These are handsomely finished with white braid trimmings. Price, per garment ..... $4.50

BATHING COSTUMES, made of a fine navy blue lustre and trimmed with bands of white lustre. These are made in the princess style and are a very superior garment. Price each ..... $3.75

Fancy Muslins, Zephyrs, Foulards, Etc., at Low Prices Tuesday

NEW DESIGNS, ATTRACTIVE COLORINGS, AND MODERATE PRICES ARE HERE

WE are not halfway through the summer yet, and all the warmest weather is yet to come, so choose your materials and get the full benefit out of your dresses. The range of patterns and colorings that we are offering is better than ever, and the recent advance in cotton hasn't increased the prices at this store—the fact is we purchased before the advance came into force. There's no better time than now. "Procrastination is the thief of time," so says the old saying, and there's no denying the truth of the statement.

20c AND 25c FANCY MUSLINS AT 10c

In this case the price is greatly reduced—cut in half and less than half—not risen as you might expect. There's only 200 yards to be sold. They are all 27 in. wide and come in the prettiest designs you ever saw. Stripe, spot and floral patterns are included, while the prevailing colors are pink, sky, helio and red. Your dress length will cost you only about 70c. Per yard ..... 10c

OTHER EXCELLENT VALUES

GINGHAMS, 31 in. wide, and a quality that will launder well. These are to be had in large and small checked designs and are a wonderful value at, per yard ..... 12½c

ENGLISH PRINTS, all 31 in. wide and in a wide range of colors and designs. The dyes are all fast, and we don't know of a material that is more serviceable and inexpensive. Per yard ..... 15c

COTTON CREPES are here in a choice assortment of self colors and are an excellent value at, per yard ..... 25c

S. P. C. A.—Cases of cruelty, 'phone. Inspector Russell, 1921; secretary, L1723.

Volcanic Ash Falling.—Baynes Reed, superintendent of the Victoria Meteorological office, has received word this morning from Prince Rupert that on Saturday evening last, light volcanic ash was falling. This is no doubt due to the Alaska disturbance.

Hanna & Thomson, Pandora Ave.—Leading funeral furnishing house. Connections, Vancouver, New Westminster and Winnipeg.

Library Gifts.—Among the library gifts during the past week at the Carnegie there is an excellent volume presented by Mr. Baynes Reed, entitled "Shakespeare as an Artist," a book which greatly adorns the shelf devoted to the greatest of the world's great writers; also three works of fiction by C. Holmes and donations of ten other small books from various sources.

Ladies' Tailor.—Wm. Stewart, men's and ladies' tailor, room 6, Haynes Bldg., Fort street.

Rocky Mountain Scenes.—A series of nine artistically beautiful color pictures of famous Rocky Mountain scenes, put up in panoramic folder form, is being gratuitously distributed by the passenger department, Denver & Rio Grande Railroad. Pike's Peak, Royal Gorge, Glenwood Springs, Marshall Pass and Temple Square, Salt Lake City, are some of the subjects reproduced in natural colors.

L. O. O. M.—All members of Victoria Lodge No. 738 are urged to meet Tuesday, June 4, business of the utmost importance is to be transacted. C. Copeland, Secretary.

The Higginson Appeal.—The Victoria Laborers' Protective union have contributed $16 to the Higginson appeal, arising out of the strike on the Mineral Rubber Company's plant in April. Sam Higginson was secretary of the I. W. W. organization which managed the strike. George Oliver laid the case before the union at its meeting on Friday, and will approach other unions similarly.

Contractors, Look!—CHOICE FIR DOORS, WINDOWS, GLASS, etc., in stock. R. A. Green & Co. Phone R1998. Shop on Fisguard near Cook. Estimates free.

Seismographic Record.—A photo trace of the seismographical disturbances on Friday and Saturday of last week was seen at the Meteorological office this morning. The first hint of an earthquake shock was recorded on the Victoria instrument about 7 a. m. on Thursday morning. All through Friday these shocks increased in intensity and in frequency until midnight on Friday, when a world-shaking quake was recorded, and was splendidly photographed on the seismograph slip. This particular shock, according to Mr. Napier Denison, is as great as the severe Alaskan quake of '99.

Directors Meet To-morrow.—There will be a meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. to-morrow at noon, to discuss important financial matters connected with the institution.

Victoria Turkish Bath.—Under new management. Latest up-to-date massage and chiropody a specialty. 821 Fort Street.

Membership Increasing.—The membership secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Walter Small, announced this morning that the membership of the association in Victoria had now reached the total of 881, and that during the month of May alone, twenty-seven regular members had joined the ranks, and twenty-eight members for the summer months only.

Auto and Taxi.—Cab stand, good cars, good service, all hours. Corner Fort and Douglas Streets. Phone 2319.

Y. M. C. A. Athletics.—On Saturday last the Y. M. C. A. cricket club played their first match with St. George's, and lost by 56 runs to 42. As this is the first turn-out of the newly-formed club, the result is very creditable and augurs well for a fairly successful season. The baseball team, which overwhelmed the Oak Bay nine on Saturday to the tune of 35 runs to 6.

Sale of Work.—The St. John's branch of the Girls' W. A. will hold a sale of work; also a table of home-made cookery, Thursday, June 13, from 7 to 10 p. m., in St. John's S.S. room. Ice cream and cake will be sold.

Convention Here Yesterday.—Yesterday about two hundred members of the Electric Light Convention arrived in Victoria from Vancouver, and were met by Mr. Goward and several of the British Columbia electric railway officials. The company's observation car was requisitioned and one other special car, and the party were conveyed to Oak Bay and to other points of interest about the city. Later they viewed the Parliament buildings and had to leave somewhat hurriedly to catch the Seattle boat.

If you want your home made clean and sweet. Phone 26 for the Dustless Vacuum Cleaner. We take stains out of carpets. H. Mercer, 1603 Jubilee St.

What is it?—A thick haze was very noticeable in the atmosphere all this morning; and telephone messages from Vancouver announced a similar state of things on the mainland. It is believed the haze is due to the presence of volcanic dust from the Alaska outbreak in the upper air. This would be by no means unprecedented, as in 1883, when the Krakatau eruption took place, the volcanic dust was carried in the upper air twice around the earth, and then spread north and south, causing those magnificent and unparalleled sunsets which took place for two years after that date. This explanation is the more likely when it is known that no serious forest fires have occurred anywhere in the vicinity.

For accessories for your auto, tires, etc., Goucher's, corner Courtenay and Gordon streets.

Development League.—In a well-written letter from Warsaw, the capital city of Poland, a Russian gentleman announces his intention of bringing his wife and family to Vancouver Island, if he can find suitable farm land upon which to set up a home. His letter has been acknowledged and replied to by the Vancouver Island Development League. Among other communications received at the office this morning were applications for information about fruit lands from Capetown, South Africa, and from an "osteopath" in Yankton, S. D. British letters, included those from Queensferry, Scotland, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Weston-super-mare and Glaston.

Hotel Balmoral. View, Douglas and Fort streets, under new management, newly renovated throughout. Rooms single or en suite. Rates $4 per week and upwards.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

(Times, June 10, 1887.)

A telegram from Ottawa announces that the Hon. Wilfred Laurier has been elected to succeed Hon. Ed. Blake as leader of the Liberal party. The despatch does not enter into particulars, but we are disposed to think that Mr. Laurier's appointment is temporary, and that he has been chosen to lead the party until Mr. Blake is able once again to take his place at the head. We do not believe that Mr. Blake's retirement is permanent, unless indeed his health remains broken. But whether the selection of the brilliant French orator is for a long or a short period, we believe he will discharge the duties of the position with conspicuous ability.

Victoria market prices.—During the past week little or no change has taken place in our previous quotations, excepting strawberries which are now retailed at 30 and 35 cents. Following are the ruling quotations: Island butter, 20¢; bacon, 16¢; fresh Island eggs, 25¢; asparagus, 5¢ per pound; rhubarb, 3 bunches for 10¢; beef, 10¢; mutton, 10¢; veal and lamb, 10¢; new peas, 3¢ per pound; new onions, 2¢; potatoes, 2¢; new peas, 3¢ per pound.

The steamer Maud arrived from Fort Simpson at 3 o'clock this morning, having made the round trip in seven days and seven hours, the fastest on record.

School Grounds.—The improvements made in the grounds around the schools are beginning to bear fruit, and the results are most satisfactory, encouraging an endeavor to develop the principle inaugurated this year.

Teaming.—G. F. Diswanger, dealer in coal and teaming. Phone F2993.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.—The adjourned meeting of the W. C. T. U. home will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

Phone 121 for an up-to-date hire car. Open all hours.

Young People's W. C. T. U.—The Young People's branch of the W. C. T. U. will hold their next meeting at the residence of Mrs. Williscroft, School street, on Friday evening next at 8 o'clock, when all members are requested to be present.

Annual Meeting W. C. T. U.—The adjourned annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. will take place on Thursday afternoon next at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, the members being particularly requested to note the change in place of meeting.

Railway Officials Here.—R. M. Marpole, the general executive agent of the C. P. R., arrived in the city this morning, accompanied by H. J. Cambie, the district engineer, and J. E. McMullen. They were met at the Empress hotel by H. E. Beasley, the superintendent of the E. & N. railway. They are here on one of their periodical visits of inspection.

For your taxicabs phone 121.

Goes to Prince Rupert.—Paul Naylor, after an inspection of the contract of the Naylor Brothers for the Oak Bay sewer, left on the G. T. P. boat this morning for Prince Rupert to commence operations on the contract for sewerage he has there secured. The winds and tides previously this season had delayed him from commencing operations earlier.

Meeting on Thursday.—The Ladies' Aid Society of Grace English Lutheran church will meet in the church on Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Several matters of business importance will come up for discussion and final arrangements for the strawberry social will be made. Visitors are cordially invited to all the meetings of the society.

St. Mark's Parish.—At a meeting of the vestry of St. Mark's parish held on Thursday last, the bishop of the diocese presiding, it was decided to bring the parish under the "Quebec System" for the payment of the rector's stipend, and a further motion was carried by a large majority: "That the Rev. the Hon. T. R. Henegau be requested to reconsider his resignation and remain as rector of the parish." Mr. Henegau requested to be allowed to take some days to consider this important matter and will give his decision at a meeting of the vestry to be held on Thursday next.

Entertainment at Home.—The ladies of First Presbyterian church intend giving a tea and entertainment on the afternoon of Friday at the aged Woman's Home. There will be a good music and literary programme. No admission will be charged but candy (home made) ice cream and tea and cake will be sold. All are welcome.

Garden Fete.—The Women's Guild of St. James' church, assisted by the young ladies of St. Agnes' Guild, intend holding a garden party on June 26 at the residence of Mrs. Copas, who is kindly granting the use of her garden for the occasion. There will be many attractions, among them being a little play in which young children will be the performers. Tea, ice cream and strawberries, candies, etc., will be on sale.

Goucher's Garage and up-to-date machine shop, corner Courtenay and Gordon streets.

Owls' Meeting To-night.—The members of the Order of Owls, Nest 1383, are reminded of the regular meeting this evening in the A. O. F. hall, Broad street, at 8 o'clock. Much business of vital importance to the nest is to be considered, and it is hoped that every member will make an effort to attend. Nominations of officers for the coming half year will also take place.

Building Permits.—The amount of the building permits issued to-day was small, being mostly for small amounts. M. Sweeney took out a permit for a garage on Trutch street. J. Smith for a temporary shed on Prior street. Joseph Parker for a stable, carriage house and warehouse on Joseph street. R. Moffatt for a garage on Simcoe street, and Sohan Singh for a combined house stable and chicken shed, costing $700, on McNair street.

ST. BARNABAS' SERVICES.

Dedication Festival Will Be Celebrated in Local Church.

To-morrow being St. Barnabas day, the Dedication Festival of St. Barnabas in this city will be observed, special services being held throughout the day. Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a. m., with special prayers for the welfare of the parish and the new church building. Matins, with a second celebration of Holy Eucharist at 11 a. m., will be held, while evening services will be held at 8 p. m., with special music and procession. Rev. J. W. Flinton, vicar of Saanich, occupying the pulpit. The open offertories will be for the church expenses, but the festival affords an opportunity to place their promised subscription by cheque or in an envelope upon the alms plate at this time or the Sunday of the Octave. The following is the musical programme for the evening service: Organ, Consolation, Mendelssohn; proper psalms, 8, 78 and 150; Magnificat, Nunc Dimittis, Dr. Bunnett, in F.; anthem, "Come and Let Us Return Unto the Lord," Jackson; hymns, 292, 265; offertory anthem, Fitzgerald; procession, 612; vesper, "Lord Keep Us Safe This Night"; organ, postlude, Haydn.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Daily Report Furnished by the Victoria Meteorological Department.

Victoria, June 10.—5 a. m.—The pressure is comparatively low over the Canadian Northwest provinces, and a small area of high pressure is central on the Oregon coast. Further east an important area of high pressure, is centred over the Great Lakes. West of the Rockies the weather is chiefly fair and cooler, but rain has fallen in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Forecasts.

RACING YACHT IS BEATEN BY SPIRIT

One of First Boats Designed by "Ted" Geary Trims Alexandra at Regatta

Captain Cao's fast sloop Spirit I. easily defeated the international racing sloop Alexandra, owned by Captain E. B. Deane, at the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club regatta on English Bay Saturday afternoon, when four class races brought out about seventeen entries, all the yachts being started at one time and covering the same triangular course. The Spirit was given a handicap by the Alexandra, but won by half a minute "boat for boat," showing that she was in no need of any time allowance.

The victory of the Spirit I. is interesting in view of the fact that she was one of the first boats produced by "Ted" Geary, designer of Spirit II, which was built to race the Alexandra for the international trophy. Geary designed the Spirit I. when he was in his teens, and the fact that he has defeated the boat designed by a famous Englishman whose board has produced a long line of the fastest British yachts, brings home the fact that the youthful designer of the Spirit I. and II. is "some expert" himself.

The Adelphi, known as one of the trimmest schooners on the coast, was the only craft entering Class A race on Saturday. She was sailed around the course with the other yachts. At the finish the Spirit and Alexandra were a quarter of a mile ahead of the nearest boat, but when the corrected time was announced it was found that the sloop Madeline had also beaten the Alexandra.

The following is a summary of the time of the various yachts in the classes represented:

Mark A. Wright, of Dartmouth, made a new world's record in the pole vault of 13 feet 2 1/4 inches.

The defeat of Schwengers and Garrett, of the Victoria Tennis Club, by Evans and Jukes of the Vancouver Tennis Club, at Vancouver on Saturday, resulted in the North Pacific lawn tennis cup being won by the Vancouver team. The Vancouver players won two of three matches, both victories being obtained by Schwengers, who beat Evans and Cardinal in the single matches, while Garrett lost both his singles, being beaten by Cardinal and Evans.

The surprise of the matches was the play of Evans, a new member of the Vancouver club. He defeated Schwengers in the first set of the single match, but the champion won the two succeeding ones, the first with ease and the second after having to extend himself.

The results are:

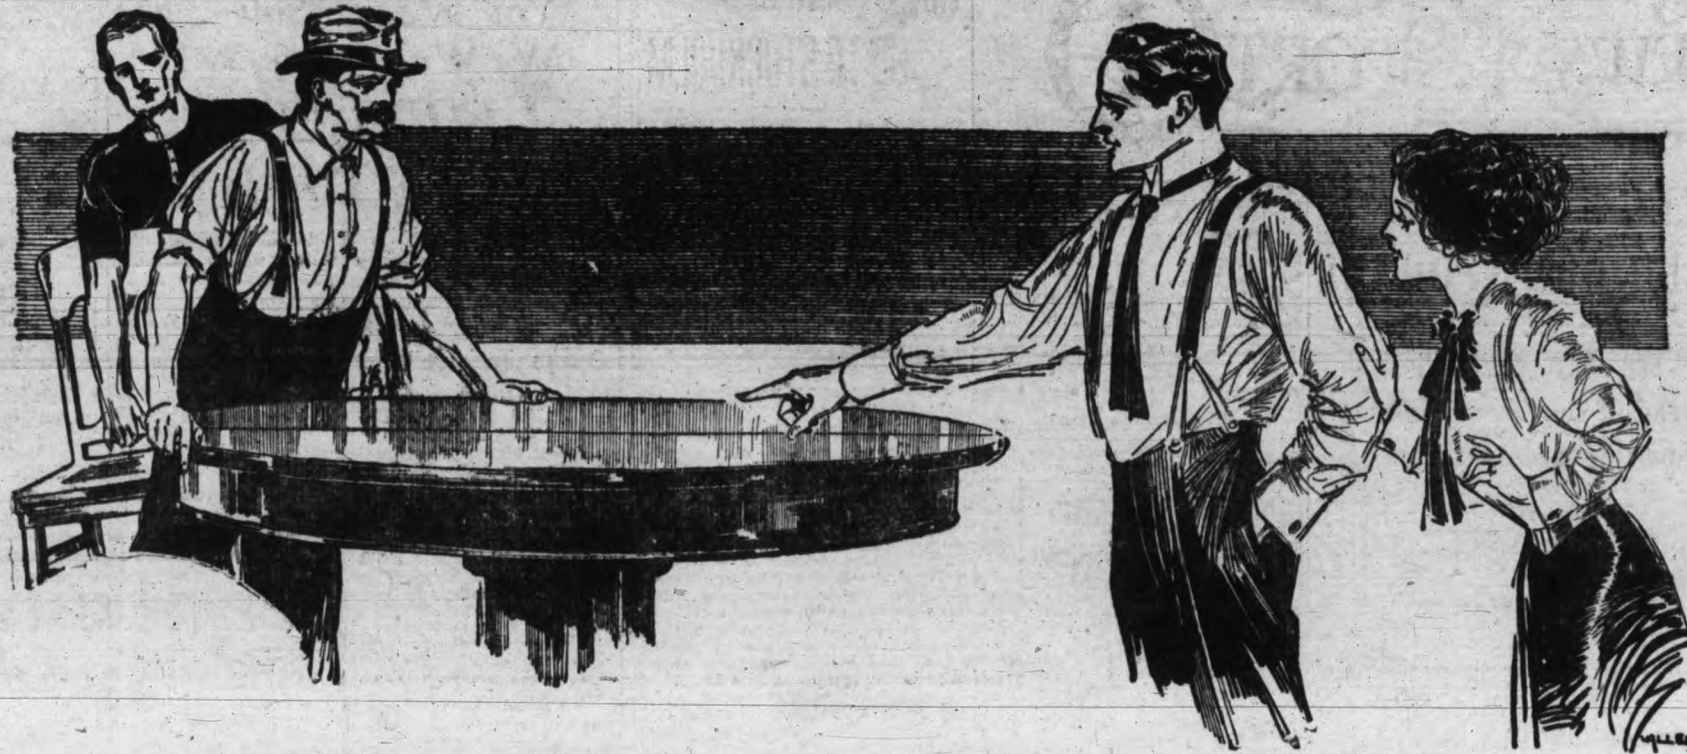

Schwengers vs. H. C. Evans, 4-6; 6-1; 8-6.

Cardinal vs. H. G. Garrett, 6-1; 8-6.

Schwengers vs. Cardinal, 6-2; 6-1.

Evans vs. H. G. Garrett, 6-2; 7-

HERE LOOKING INTO BUSINESS PROSPECTS

John Galt, of Northern S. S. Co., Talks on New Service—Going to West Coast

To look into the prospects of establishing a direct steamship service between Victoria and the Queen Charlotte Islands, and also to see if sufficient business offers here to warrant the including of this port in the schedule of its northern boats, John Galt, manager of the Northern Steamship Company, is in town on a short visit. It is more than likely that both of these innovations in the shipping of this port will be made very shortly.

On Thursday the steamer British Empire, of the Northern Steamship Co., will arrive here to load for the north. She will tie up at the Evans, Coleman & Evans dock, and will get away Friday morning after taking on a large shipment of freight. She is bound for the Queen Charlotte Islands, and will go via the west coast, calling at Quatsino and Uchuckkoff. It is understood that this will be worked into a semi-monthly service before very long.

When asked if the Northern Steamship Company would include Victoria in the port of call of the steamer Germania, which operates from Vancouver to Northern British Columbia ports, Mr. Galt said he was unable to say anything at present. Whenever the demands warrant a call the Germania will call here, and if the demands become so great no doubt the port of Victoria will be placed on the schedule of the steamer.

Mr. Galt spoke enthusiastically of the business being done by his line to the north, and believes that this season will be one of the best yet experienced.

NEWS OF THE SEVEN SEAS

GOOD CATCHES OF WHALES REPORTED

GOOD RUN OF MAMMALS AT ALL COAST PLANTS

Gray in Port—Wm. Grant Chases Whale in Rose Harbor but Gunner Missed

Reporting good catches at all four of the whaling stations located in British Columbia waters and a splendid run of whales off the coast, the steamer Gray, Capt. Shadforth, of the Canadian North Pacific Fisheries Company, returned to Victoria yesterday morning with a full cargo of whale oil from the stations. Capt. Shadforth reports the Sechart station as having the largest catch, over 100 whales being taken by the little whalers operating out of there since the season opened. Naden Harbor is following the west coast station closely and had 87 when the Gray left. The whalers at Kyquoot have harpooned 75 mammals and at Rose Harbor 47 have fallen to the deadly aim of the gunners.

The whales are running well now at all the stations and the catches will be greatly augmented during the next few weeks. During the early part of the season, owing to rough weather, the whalers met with little success, but with the advent of summer the whales have become more numerous and the little steamers never return to their home station without one or two of the big mammals in tow. The largest whale taken so far this season was a sulphur bottom measuring 90 feet, which was caught at Kyquoot. Several sperm whales have also been captured.

An amusing incident is reported by Capt. Shadforth which occurred at Rose Harbor about a week ago. A whale, while on its wanderings in search of food, swam in through the entrance to the harbor and started the animal slides up the wharf. The whaler employed at the station by its heavy blowing. The whaler William Grant was tied up at the wharf and immediately her skipper ordered all lines cast off. The intruding whale scented danger and commenced to retreat to the safer waters outside. The Grant, however, followed the blows and soon was in firing distance of the whale. The gunner placed the harpoon in the gun and the trigger was pulled. Fortunately for the big fish it dived away and the harpoon was sent on its way and thereby saved its life. The whaler was able to again get within firing distance and the whale never roamed back into Rose Harbor again.

FISH NOW RUNNING WELL.

Salmon Season Will Be in Full Swing by Middle of Month.

The salmon canning season on Puget Sound will be in full swing by the middle of the month. The fish have already commenced to run in large quantities to the straits and trawls are already making large catches.

The purse seiners also report the presence of large numbers of fish in the vicinity of Cape Flattery. The packers and fishermen here have been unable to arrive at anything definite in regard to price to be paid for fresh fish. The seiners have offered to pay the packers twelve and one-half cents now and seventeen cents later in the season, when the fish get larger and better. The packers have offered to pay 35 cents for sockeyes. The prices are several cents higher than those obtained last year.

Statistically the Puget Sound pack this year will be light. The increase in the number of vessels in the fishing fleet, however, and the gear which will be used in the straits may increase the catch of fish. Nearly all of the Puget Sound canneries will operate.

The Puget Sound Salmon Canneries' Association Saturday made a demand upon congress and others in authority at Washington to protect the American fishermen against the encroachments of the Canadian customs officials in the vicinity of Cape Flattery, as has already been done by the Times last week. The Salmon Canneries' Association represents practically every salmon cannery on the Sound.

MANY EXCURSIONISTS LEAVE FOR PORTLAND

Prince George Took Out 125 Yesterday—Number Will Spend Week in Rose City

Over 125 Victorians left here yesterday morning aboard the Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince George bound for Portland to attend the annual rose festival. The excursionists reached Seattle yesterday afternoon and connected with Great Northern and Northern Pacific trains for the Rose City, arriving there last night at 10 o'clock. Most of the local people will spend the whole week at the Columbia river city, while a number will return here on the Prince Rupert on Thursday morning.

This is the largest number of Victorians that ever attended a rose show in Portland. Besides those who took advantage of the excursion being run by the G. T. P. in conjunction with the railroad companies, a great number are going to Portland via the C. P. R. steamers. The committee in charge of the festival has arranged one of the most varied programmes that has ever been offered for the visitors' enjoyment.

Many of the Victorians who left are on their holidays and not only will they attend the rose show, but will spend an additional week there to see all that there is to be seen in Portland.

"BOHUNKS" RUSHING INTO PRINCE RUPERT

G. T. P. Taking Record Passengers List Northward—Prince George Arrives

Never before in the history of British Columbia's development were such large crowds of passengers, principally steerage, carried to the north as at the present time. The two big Grand Trunk Pacific steamers on each trip have their accommodation taxed to its capacity and on some occasions the passenger agents have been forced to refuse passage to some of those who apply for tickets. The rush of "bohunks," the western term applied to railroad laborers from some parts of Europe, is extremely large and hundreds are carried every trip.

On her last voyage northward the Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince George, Capt. D. McKenzie, which arrived in port yesterday morning, established a new record for the company's vessels for the number of passengers carried. Her total list was 312, and of these, 214 were "bohunks." This is the largest crowd taken by a single ship to Prince Rupert since the days when the Rupert City operated to the laying of steel. On one trip the Rupert City carried over 500 passengers, most of whom were foreigners bound to the railroad camps. The steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Johnson, when she cleared from Vancouver last Thursday night, also carried a heavy list of passengers, there being 175 "bohunks" aboard.

Capt. McKenzie reports having had a pleasant trip to Prince Rupert, the weather being beautiful throughout. After her regular trip to Seattle the steamer returned to Victoria this morning and cleared at 10 o'clock for Prince Rupert. Among the passengers who left on her were the following: P. J. Jennings, A. E. Ward, J. Hutterly, H. J. McIntyre, R. Morris, O. N. Nall, R. Nall, W. McDonald, R. H. Ross, W. J. Driver, Mrs. W. Maxfield, Philip Maxfield, Ella Maxfield, N. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand, Mrs. C. J. Reutinger, B. Degenhardt, F. L. Johnson, Mr. Parker, Mrs. Gavin, H. Winfield, A. J. Bisdale, H. Russell, N. Kroeger, Mrs. A. J. Blake, F. H. Worlock, W. A. Mayer and M. P. Naylor.

The George took out about 100 tons of general freight for the north, some of which will go through to Skeena River Crossing, the present end of steel.

WHALE'S BOILER LEAKS.

Sebastian Returns to Port for Repairs—Will be Here Few Days.

Owing to slight repairs being needed to her boiler the little steam whaler Sebastian returned to port early this morning from Kyquoot. While on a whaling cruise a leak was discovered in her boiler and it was decided to come to Victoria to have the injury repaired. She will remain here a couple of days and return to her station to pursue her exciting task of chasing whales.

FINDS BODIES OF SEAMEN.

Cordova, Alaska, June 10.—The steamer Annie, which arrived to-day reported that she landed four men on Montague Island at the scene of the loss of the wrecked barge Haydn Brown, which was wrecked last month with a loss of seven lives, and that the bodies of two men were found and buried. One body was fully clothed, bearing papers with the name of A. C. Jensen, a deckhand. The other was not identified, but was probably that of Karl Westerland, a seaman who reached port with August Palmer, the only survivor, but died in a few hours and was left on the beach when the light-house tender Armeria took Palmer off. Much wreckage from the barge was found strewn along the shore.

SHIPMENT OF SEWING MACHINES ON JAPAN

Empress Leaving Wednesday With Big Cargo—Makura and Bellerophon Also Sail

No less than 250 tons of sewing machines will constitute an important part of the cargo of the C. P. R. liner Empress of Japan, Capt. Robinson, which will sail from this port on Wednesday evening, providing the Old Country mails reach Vancouver on time. This large shipment of sewing machines is consigned to Hongkong. At the present time there is a big demand in the Orient for everything that will save time and make work easy. The people of the Far East are rapidly awakening and want the latest in every line.

In addition to this cargo the white liner will also have a heavy shipment of flour and 13,715 cases of condensed milk. The members of the bovine tribe are not very numerous in the Orient, and the condensed article is used a great deal there. The Empress will have a large list of passengers, including about fifty first class.

On Wednesday two other liners will sail, the Makura, Capt. Gibby, of the Canadian-Australian line, getting away in the evening, and the Blue Funnel steamship Bellerophon, Capt. Jebb, sailing some time in the morning. Both are now completing their cargoes, the former being at Vancouver and the latter at Seattle. The Makura will have a large list of passengers, her saloon accommodation being nearly all reserved.

The Kentra, Capt. Turner, of the Maple Leaf line, finished discharging at Esquimalt Saturday and yesterday unloaded 200 tons of freight at the outer Dock. She proceeded last night to Vancouver, for which port she has several thousand tons of cargo.

'FRISCO'S MARINE NEWS.

Hornelen Missed Cancelling Date but is Retained by Charterers.

San Francisco, June 10.—The Norwegian steamer Hornelen, which arrived on the Sound Saturday from Guaymas, missed her cancelling date by some weeks, but in view of the fact that rates have gone up recently, G. W. McNear, who has her under charter to load on the Sound for Melbourne at 45 shillings 9 pence, will retain her. At present it is doubtful if a vessel could be obtained for that voyage at less than 55 shillings a passage, and then probably only a small sailing vessel, as steamers and large sailers are practically impossible to obtain.

The Harrison liner Director arrived late Saturday night from Antwerp and the Matson liner Enterprise from Hilo. The Director will steam for Victoria and Vancouver Tuesday, and later will load at Sound ports for Europe. She is the first of the Harrison line fleet to make a second visit to the Golden Gate.

The Director left the other side with 6,000 tons of general merchandise, a part cargo of which she discharged at San Pedro. For this port the vessel has 1,000 tons, the balance being for Victoria, Vancouver and Prince Rupert. She makes a special call at the latter port to discharge a large consignment of cast iron pipe.

The Director will be the next outward carrier of the line, and when she departs from the Coast she will have in her hold a large cargo of California products, in addition to freight from the north. In the wake of the Director is coming the huge steamer Politician, which will be the largest boat in the Harrison fleet to call here. She left Antwerp May 30 and is heavily laden with cargo for the various ports of call.

INJURED IN HEAVY BLOW.

Meteor Eight Days Coming Up Coast From San Francisco.

As a result of the severe weather which she encountered on her trip from San Francisco, the Pacific Steamship Company's steamer Meteor has suffered severely, but just how seriously will not be determined until after a survey of the vessel has been completed.

The Meteor arrived at Seattle Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock. She was very light, having but 400 tons of cargo, and as a result was severely buffeted by the big waves raised by a stiff "northwester" which she encountered south of Cape Blanco. The steamer required eight days to make the passage from San Francisco to Seattle. Part of the delay was due to a heavy fog which was encountered off the mouth of the Columbia river.

After a survey and repairs here, the Meteor will load freight for Southeastern Alaska, sailing next week.

The steamer Venture, Capt. Parks, of the Boscowitz fleet, is due to arrive here for Bella Coola on Wednesday. She sails north again the same night.

On Wednesday morning the Pacific Coast Steamship Queen will leave port for San Francisco with a full cargo of general freight and a fair list of passengers.

Returning from a trip to Ocean Falls and way ports the C. P. R. steamer Princess Beatrice, Capt. Hawes, arrived in port yesterday. She is scheduled to sail again to-morrow.

When the Panama canal is finished and open for traffic, the Canadian-Australian line may cease to exist as a mail service, according to reports, as the establishing of a direct line between New Zealand and the United Kingdom is contemplated by the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand. The company is building a number of freighters which will be equipped to handle frozen shipments. It is expected the mail will be taken over this line instead of via Vancouver, provided the service is faster than that now in force.

Captain Newcombe, of the fishery protection service, seized two gasoline launches operating at the mouth of the Naas river last week. They were turned over to a customs officer for an examination of their cargo. It is reported that gasoline engines are being smuggled into Canada by launches from the United States in order to avoid paying the duty. Captain Newcombe also discovered that the Indians had blocked the mouth of one of the rivers to catch fish, thereby preventing the salmon from going up the stream to spawn.

WATER RISES IN THE RESERVOIR

SOME RELIEF SINCE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Break in Weather is—Anticipated—Underwriters Urge Further Precautions

The water question is easier to-day, the western half of the reservoir having gained two feet during the night, being practically empty during the earlier hours of Sunday. The concrete has been laid on the walls of the eastern half, which has now to be cleared of building material, and which is expected to be put into operation during the present week. There were a number of visitors during the day, but the condition of the reservoir aroused no surprise in view of the drain on its resources. The strain of Monday is always a heavy one, and the relief afforded during the night was one not to be despised under the special conditions of the case.

The practice of economy, which has been instilled by cutting off the water in cases where the residents have disregarded notices has had the healthy effect of bringing them to time, and that conditions will begin to improve is the opinion of those best in a position to judge.

The underwriters association waited on the Mayor on Saturday, and urged immediate steps to supplement the water supply by the installation of an additional pump at Elk lake, passing unfiltered water through the pipes as a supplementary supply to that used for domestic purposes. The Mayor promised the consideration of the city engineer and water commissioner to the matter.

In connection with the motion of Alderman Okeill on the inadequate water supply of Victoria West, it is expected further reference will be made to the water question this evening at the council meeting, as many of the citizens have been worrying aldermen during the week on the subject.

PORTLAND ROSE CARNIVAL.

Varied Programme Will Be Presented in the Oregon City This Week.

Portland, Ore., June 10.—With a programme that ranges from a spectacular presentation showing the fall two hundred and fifty years ago of the Bridge of the Gods and the formation of the Cascades of the Columbia, with wild west shows, historical, allegorical and industrial pageants by day and by night, Portland "laid off" to-day from its regular pursuit, and until Saturday will celebrate in style, its sixth annual Rose Festival. The festival formally opened at noon to-day, when Rex Oregon departed from the cruiser Mary-land, on which he "arrived" Sunday from the land of perpetual joy. A marine parade headed by the Maryland and participated in by practically every steam craft in the river celebrated the potentate's arrival. In the afternoon a reception was tendered to Rex and in the evening he attended the beautiful spectacle, "The Bridge of Gods," with its primeval aboriginal setting; the coming to Oregon of the first white man and the final collapse of the great causeway during an eruption of Mount Hood.

Winnipeg, June 10.—George Fraser Munroe, head of the law firm of Munroe, MacKenzie & McQueen, passed away at his home in Kildonan. He was the oldest living graduate of Manitoba university, taking B. A. in 1881.

ARRANGE BIG CONVENTION HERE

FORESTRY ASSOCIATION OFFICER HAS ARRIVED

Gathering Here in September—President John Hendry Accepts Invitation

At a time when the provincial government is directing special attention to the conservation of the forestry resources of the province, the approaching visit of the Canadian Forestry Association to Victoria is of special significance, particularly as it will bring here many of the leading lumbermen and merchants interested in that important industry, one of the greatest natural resources of Canada to-day.

The visit is at the invitation of the provincial government, and Victoria was preferred to Winnipeg, the fact that John Hendry, the head of the B. C. Timber & Trading Company, is this year president of the association having a good deal to do with the choice of the most western city for the visit at this juncture.

The convention will assemble in the legislative chamber on September 4 and will last two days. The secretary of the association, James Lawler, and Mr. Matier, secretary to Mr. Hendry, arrived in the city this morning, and spent some time in conference with the departmental heads at the Parliament buildings, making preparations for the meeting of the association.

The assembly of the association here is a demonstration of the recognition of British Columbia's position in the timber world, and the desire of eastern lumbermen to become acquainted with western conditions, which a personal visit will enable them to do, particularly of Vancouver Island, timber.

The Canadian Forestry Association has as its patron the Governor-General, and Prime Minister Borden is honorary president. The vice-president this year is W. A. Charlton, late candidate for Norfolk county for the House of Commons. The minister of lands, Hon. W. R. Ross, is territorial vice-president for this province. It is understood that Dr. Gifford Pinchot is expected to return to Victoria to take part in the deliberations of the associations convention. The officers and directors of the association include some of the most prominent men in the Dominion to-day.

WILL DISCUSS TITLE TO INDIAN LANDS

DR. McKENNA ARRIVES TO CONSULT MINISTERS

Object of Mission on Coast—Old Standing Problem

On a mission to arrive at a satisfactory arrangement over Indian reserves between the federal and provincial governments, Dr. J. A. McKenna, of Winnipeg, arrived at the Empress hotel last evening, and expects to be in the city several days discussing the subject in its various aspects on behalf of the Dominion government with the provincial administration.

To a Times representative this morning Dr. McKenna explained that various Indian reserves were set aside by British Columbia was still in its crown colony days. Discussion between the two governments on the matter took place after the confederation in 1871, and the Dominion claimed that some 80 acres should be allotted to each family, whereas the average area set aside for Indians prior to confederation was ten acres per family. The province eventually agreed to provide 20 acres. Mr. Duncan, the well known missionary of Metlakatla, intervened with a suggestion that instead of fixing an arbitrary acreage by agreement agents should be appointed who would ascertain the requirements of the Indians. Then the land should be set aside to meet such requirements, and in the event of the Indians diminishing as time went on, the reserves should be reduced and the land cut off should revert to the province, or additional land be provided by the province in case of an increase of population.

The Dominion government agreed to take advantage of the offer, but proposed that instead of agents acting, a joint commission should be appointed to allocate the land. Such a commission was appointed and operated for a few years, and then on the suggestion of the Dominion government it was replaced by a sole commissioner. His allotments were subject to the approval of the minister, and the same conditions applied as to reversionary interest. For a number of years this system prevailed. The late government abolished the office of reserve commissioner in 1897, which had been attached to that of Indian superintendent. This prevented the allocation bargain made for under the agreement of 1876.

Both governments are now confronted with the problems arising from the abnormal rise in value of Indian reserves near which great cities are growing up, Indian reserves which are occupied by a rapidly diminishing population. A sentiment has existed that with the march of progress these reservations would sooner or later be used for other purposes after the survivors of the Indian bands had been

IMPERIAL CABLE MESSAGES.

London, June 10.—Sir Henniker Heaton, the veteran postal reformer, speaking at the West Indian meeting, said: "Very soon we may expect imperial cable messages of twelve words for a shilling. The government ought to subsidize the cable service as it did the early mail service. American cable companies are equipped to carry three hundred and twenty-five million words annually, yet last year they only carried twenty millions. It is absurd to speak of deferred messages under such circumstances."

FOUND DEAD IN SHACK.

Mystery Surrounds Death of Man At South Vancouver.

South Vancouver, June 9.—On investigation by the police, the death of John Spence, who lived alone in a shack near the corner of Knight road and Ferris street, and whose body was found by his neighbors, has taken on a rather mysterious aspect.

Spence, who had been in this country only two months, and who had been sending home money to the Old Country regularly for the support of his wife and five children, was in the employ of the municipality and made his home in a shack. He was a man of regular habits and well thought of in the neighborhood. Retiring to his shack on Saturday night, his neighbors noticed that yesterday, up till 2:30 he had not put in an appearance and decided to go to his shack and see if all was right. On opening the door they which was placed on one side of the room, and reaching high upon the wall, with his head lower down than the rest of his body, and resting on a cupboard. They immediately reported to the police, who started an investigation.

TRAINS COLLIDE.

Dozen Persons Injured in Wreck in North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., June 10.—The Winnipeg flyer, fast Northern Pacific train from Winnipeg to Minneapolis, while running 40 miles an hour Saturday crashed into the Pacific Coast express, running from Chicago to Seattle, at Winnipeg Junction, near here, injuring a dozen persons, none seriously. Failure of the brakes on the flyer to work was the cause of the wreck. The express was standing at a crossing waiting to make connections. The dining car on the express was cut in two and rolled into the ditch. Four occupants, all men, went over with the diner. The engine of the Winnipeg train overturned.

CHILD'S TRAGIC DEATH.

Montreal, June 10.—Wedged in the tackle of an overturned derrick, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Hackett was drowned in Lake St. Louis, while her mother hung to the keel of the overturned boat, and her father, with two friends, searched vainly for the child.

will not receive to-morrow, nor again this season.

A pretty wedding, largely attended by the friends of the young couple, was celebrated at 7.30 on Saturday evening when Miss Beatrice Louise Lacey, just recently arrived in Victoria from Chelsea, England, and Mr. Arthur Jesse Peters, of this city, were united in marriage by Rev. William Stevenson, the ceremony taking place at the residence of the bridegroom's parents, Heron street, Oak Bay. The bride, who looked very pretty in a becoming gown of white silk and lace insertion and all-over lace trimmings, carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and white sweet peas, and was attended by Miss Ada Blakemore as bridesmaid, Mr. Robert Peters, brother of the bridegroom, acting as best man. The room where the wedding took place was very lavishly decorated with roses and sweet peas and made a charming setting for the pretty ceremony, at the conclusion of which the young couple, who received a number of handsome presents, received the congratulations and good wishes of their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Peters, who will make their residence at Willow's Beach on their return to the city, left on Saturday for Cadboro Bay, where they will spend a short honeymoon.

RIFLEMEN TO SHOOT FOR A NEW TROPHY

STATE AND PROVINCE TEAMS TO COMPETE

Generals From Three States
Complete Arrangements With
B. C. Military Officers

Riflemen of British Columbia, Washington, Idaho and Oregon will shoot for a handsome trophy offered by the state of Washington, at Portland rifle ranges, September 27 and 28 next, according to arrangements completed at Seattle Saturday afternoon between Lt.-Col. Currie, B. C. G. A. Gen. Llewellyn, adjutant of the Washington state forces, Gen. Finzer, Oregon, and Gen. McCall, Idaho. The meeting of military leaders of the Pacific west was the common point of meeting, because of its being equally accessible to all the men concerned.

The first team to win the competition twice in five years will secure the trophy for ever. One team will represent each province or state, and will consist of twelve men. Teams will shoot over two, five, six, eight hundred and one thousand yards ranges, ten shots at each range.

Col. Duff-Stuart, sixth D. A. C. Regiment, Vancouver, was present with Lt.-Col. Currie at the meeting at Seattle representing the province in company with the local commander. Details satisfactory to Gen. Llewellyn, Finzer and McCall and the British Columbia representatives were agreed upon and the first competition for the new international trophy, it was decided should go to Portland.

Three locations for successive annual shoots were settled, but the remaining two years of the five were left until later years. The second shoot will be held at Seattle and the 1914 shoot will take place either at Victoria or Vancouver.

Lt.-Col. Currie, speaking of the meeting of military men this morning, said that the British Columbia team to go to Portland in September would probably be selected from the form shown by the British Columbia marksmen at the B. C. R. A. matches at Richmond in July.

OBITUARY RECORD

At St. Joseph's hospital farm, near Heald's post office, West Saanich, on Saturday afternoon, the death of John Yeates, from heart failure, due to the heat of the day, occurred. The body was removed to the city, where an inquest took place to-day. The deceased, who was 25 years of age, was an Englishman and had lived in this country for about six years. He is survived by a wife living at New Westminster, and leaves a number of friends in the city by whom he will be mourned.

The funeral of the late Charles Brocklebank took place on Saturday afternoon from the Victoria Undertaking parlors, Rev. Gilbert Cook officiating. The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. E. Hunt, George Faulkner, J. Croffay, J. Shepherd, E. Johnson and James Reed.

The death occurred at the St. Joseph's hospital on Saturday morning of Gus Massara, recently injured in a bicycle accident. The deceased, who was 27 years of age, was a barber by profession, and had been engaged in business at Sidney post office. He is survived by a brother, Arthur. Arrangements for the funeral are not yet complete, and will be announced at a later date.

DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT OUT OF DANGER

Montreal, June 10.—There will be no more bulletins from now on regarding the condition of the Duchess of Connaught's condition, as Her Royal Highness is now declared to be entirely out of danger.

Since 1882 the number of sheep in New South Wales has decreased from 61,000,000 to 4,000,000, but so much more wool has been shorn from each sheep that the total clip is greater than twenty years ago.

SERMON FOR THOSE IN MIDDLE LIFE

THEN IS THE TIME OF DISENCHANTMENT

And It Is Beset With Peril—
Rev. T. E. Holling in Metropolitan Church

In the Metropolitan Methodist church yesterday Rev. T. E. Holling preached an instructive sermon to the middle-aged, following his deliverance to the aged of a week previous. This sermon, by the way, was contributed by Mr. Holling to the columns of the Manitoba Free Press some time ago in the course of a series of sermons by former Winnipeg pastors, which appeared in that publication.

His text was: "Your young men shall see visions and your old men shall dream dreams." Arts 2:17, and he said in part:

But what about the middle-aged? I once quoted this text and asked this question of a Christian business man: "What do the middle-aged see?" "Oh," said he, "they see facts." Precisely so. The poetry of life gathers round its commencement and close, just as the poet finds inspiration in the rising and setting of the sun. But around middle-age there gathers no halo of poetry. It is too prosaic to be talked of with any touch of sentiment. It is a time of disenchantment with the world. One finds it no easy task to retain the glowing ideals and the ardent enthusiasm of youth. In history, the middle ages were the dark ages. In human life the same is often true. Glamour gives place to gloom. The gaily decorated car of imagination sped along by the impetuous steeds of youth is exchanged for the lumbering wagon which drags oxen drag patiently forward. Henry D. Thoreau says: "The youth gets together the materials to build a bridge to the moon or a temple on earth and the middle-aged man concludes to build a woodshed with them."

Popular to Preach to Young.

It is the popular thing to-day to preach to young men; our religious literature seems to be poured out lavishly at their feet. We imagine that the foes a young man has to face are the most deadly, and therefore he must be the object of all our effort. But middle-life is beset with peril. The psalmist spoke of "the destruction that wasteth at noonday." Many a man has fought and vanquished the enemies of the morning hours of his life, but the corroding influences of the noonday period have proved too much for him.

Like Geography of Canada.

Human life is something like the geography of Canada. The hills and valleys, the forests, fields and fruits of the eastern provinces may fittingly stand for the youthful period of life. Then come the far-reaching prairies, mile after mile of level land yielding its harvest of golden grain. Here we have left behind the romanticism of youth and men must in a rigorous climate compel the earth to give bread to the world. Middle-life is the prairie period. The painter and poet will never catch the fire or court the muse in the workaday matter-of-fact life of the middle-aged. Next come the massive mountains and rushing rivers and glorious sunsets of the Pacific west, appropriately telling of the journey nearing its end and sloping to the sea of eternal love. Many of us are struggling perhaps wearily on the long trail of middle-life or tugging the broad fields in the heat of the day. It is at once a time of peril and of power.

Time of Peril.

It is a perilous time in private life. Joseph, Moses, Daniel, all stood true to God in the opening time of life. It was in middle life that Lot, Balaam, Saul, Judas and Demas made shipwreck of faith. He was in a young man's body and bring it into subjection. It is a fact of painful significance that of the deeds which cannot be named as hecometh saints, by far the greater portion are perpetrated by those who are no longer young. Schiller says that it is an anthropological fact that the animal nature of man becomes dominant over the spiritual towards middle life. Dante in his great poem places a man's encounter with the three animals—the fierce lion of wrath and pride; luxury, the spotted panther; the gaunt falkner wolf of avarice—in the middle period of man's life.

Perilous Business.

It is a perilous period in business life. It would not be difficult to recall a long list of men in their younger days earned and enjoyed the confidence of the public. So long as they had to win their way to positions of honor and trust all was well. But the time of severest testing came in middle-life when their fellows imagined they were beyond suspicion.

Some few years ago James Balfour, a member of the British House of Commons, was regarded as one of the most able and upright financiers of his day. Poor and rich alike placed their money in his hands without a moment's hesitation. But in the very heyday of his career he betrayed his trust and plunged hundreds of hard-working, honest people into destitution. Whitaker Wright is a more recent illustration.

From every rank of English society men were satisfied to invest in companies that Wright organized. His word was final in the realm of finance. He outshone the titled aristocracy of England in the brilliancy of his public and social life. It was in the noon-day period of his life that the crash came. He fell from his high place and involved some of the part of the Glacial Period—one estimated to have extended over a period of a million years. The men of this type had the receding forehead suggestive of the simian. He was brutish perhaps in appearance, savage, no doubt, in his nature—yet large brained, erect in posture, and in every sense of the biologist—a man. But now, as a sequel to the latest discovery, science declares that thousands of years before the Neanderthal race flourished in South Germany, Belgium, and France, England was occupied by a race of men which in build of body and form of brain were of the distinctly modern type.

The discovery was made in the chalky boulder clay near Ipswich. Before this clay was laid down, scientists tell us, there was apparently a sandy land surface and on this lived the man whose remains have been found. The man stood 5 feet 10 inches in height. His head was perhaps a trifle smaller and flatter than that of present day man, but there was nothing brutal or simian in his appearance. It is calculated that the skeleton is 100,000 years old.

Victoria is Famous For Her Well Dressed Men

"The best dressed men in Canada," is the verdict of a famous globe trotter on his recent visit to this city.

"I have been in every place of importance in the Dominion," he continued.

"I have seen more well dressed men here than in any other Canadian city. Your men know how to wear their clothes, and use a great deal of taste in selecting the patterns and styles that suit their personalities.

"But probably it is because all your well dressed men wear Fit-Reform Suits."

NEW WESTMINSTER GAVE CHAMPIONS A BEATING

They Took Vancouverites' Scalps With Seven to Two—Frequent Penalties Imposed—Play on the Whole Was Tame

Westminster turned the trick on the world's lacrosse champions on Saturday afternoon at the Royal City, retrieving the defeat of a week ago in a seven to two victory secured before a good attendance.

Vancouver started off with a mild attack. Jimmy Gifford relieved, but again the play came to the Westminster end, where Allen, Phelan and Nichols tried hard but failed to score. Nichols was the first man ruled off for slugging Tom Rennie. McGregor scored for Vancouver, 3 minutes. Westminster got busy after this and Hess stopped a couple of hot ones. Westminster came down with the odd man, but the stiff checking of the Vancouver defence prevented them from getting by Hess. New Westminster came down again with a nice rush, but they were slow to shoot. On the whole the visitors seemed to have more of the play, but one of their old time rushes the locals scored. W. Turnbull doing the trick in eight minutes, six seconds. The Royals came away with a nice rush from the face-off, but could not beat Hess. Again came a Westminster rush and Len Turnbull negotiated a long shot in 2:14, putting New Westminster in the lead. The Vancouver home had many chances, but the absence of Lalonde was noticeable, however, in 5:15 E. Murray scored for Vancouver and the teams were once more on even terms. The first quarter ended with score two all.

The second quarter opened with a New Westminster attack, the ball passing for some time from end to end. The Vancouver attack was very slow and ineffective, in fact, the play on the whole was very tame. Westminster awakened up and made a couple of rushes, but had passing rendered their work also ineffective. Hess made a couple of nice stops. Then at the other end Clark and Tom Rennie pulled off a nice piece of defence work. The Vancouver home held the ball a lot, but showed little signs of boring-in tactics that marked their play last Saturday. There was no life in the game at this stage except in spots. Bun Clark cleared two or three nice shots and Bill Turnbull was ruled off for five minutes for slugging Mickey Ions. George Rennie followed him with five minutes for tripping McGregor, just before the gong rang for half time. There was no score in this quarter.

Third Quarter. Westminster was playing two men short and bunched their men on defence. Even with this handicap Westminster became aggressive and when W. Turnbull came back into the game they more than held their own, but did not shoot well. Ions was ruled off for slugging McGregor, just before the gong rang for half time. There was no score in this quarter.

WESTERN MEN WHOLE SHOW IN THE SPRINTS

Toronto Paper Contains Interesting Account of Eaton Games

Eastern exchanges to hand contain detailed descriptions of the Eaton races on Saturday week in which the crack British Columbia athletes competed. The Toronto News has a particularly good account, a part of which is here reproduced:

Eaton's big meet at the Island on Saturday was BIG in every sense of the word. The crowd was big, the performances were big, and there were many "big bugs" present. Athletes big and little from all points of the compass were on hand, and it is doubtful whether the Olympic competition at Sweden will provide a higher class of sport. The United States was represented by half a dozen men who are considered to be sure prize winners in the world's championships and though they managed to land their share of the awards, they did not make the clean sweep that they had anticipated. In the sprints Army Howard, the tall husky runner from Winnipeg, showed marvellous form, beating Alvah Meyer, of New York, who is considered to rate at the top of the first flight of short distance men across the border in the 100 metres, while in the 200 metres after disposing of Bob Cloughen of the N. Y. A. C. in his heat, he took the measure of H. Beasley, of Victoria, in the final. He ran magnificently in both events and should prove a grand standard bearer for Canada at Stockholm.

Western Sprinters Show Class. The Western contingent, in fact, were the whole show in the sprints. McConnell, of British Columbia, broke the Canadian record by one-fifth of a second, and equalled the Olympic record in the first heat of the 100 metres, but was unplaced in the final owing to a bad get-away. Bobby Kerr, the erstwhile champion, came to life in this race, winning his heat handsily from Charlie Watson, of Eaton. In the final, Kerr looked like winning until ten yards from the tape, when Meyer and Howard breezed by him, the latter by a supreme effort, beating out the New Yorker in the final stride. In the 200 metres, Howard had to extend himself to the limit to win from Beasley, of Victoria, and only got up in the last yard. Beasley beat the gun by a yard and it was a stern chase for Howard, but the long legged Winnipegger fairly out-gamed his rival, coming in the pinch came. Bloodworth, of Eaton, ran gamely, but the pace was a little too hot for him. The time was 2-3-5 seconds outside the Canadian record, as was to be expected, considering the unevenness of the turf track.

Brock Made It Close. Mel Sheppard did not start in the 300 metres, conserving his energies for the longer race, but the New Yorkers were well represented by Kivlat and Gissing. McCulloch, of the West End, did the double work until the last furlong, when Kivlat and Brock took the track and the pair had a merry battle right to the end, two yards of the tape, where the little collegian forged to the front to win by a couple of feet. It was a staggered finish, and Brock had little more than a kick left. The race was run 2-5 of a second inside the Canadian record. Gissing, who has never shown much hereabouts, was a far-off third. In the 1500 metres Sheppard won practically as he liked from Waring, Eaton, and Beckett, of Winnipeg. He indulged the former with the lead until the last lap, when he let go and came home ten yards in front.

A Fine Win. Jack Tressider, of Eaton, scored the most popular win of the day and heartened the local enthusiasts mightily when he won the 400 metres from a grand field, which included Rosenburger, the New York quarter-mile champion; Gallon, of British Columbia; Follinsbee, West End, and others. The race looked to be between Rosenburger and Gallon entering into the stretch, but Follinsbee gave it a different complexion when he led on half-way down the stretch and joined issue with Gallon, who led Rosenburger a foot. Tressider, on the outside, was apparently choked off, but when Rosenburger fell back beaten he saw an opening and coming through like a shot he rocketed to the front to win by an eyelash on the tape. Tressider was carried off in triumph by his team mates. It was in the same race a year ago that Rosenburger beat him a foot. The victor, much to everybody's surprise, failed to finish inside the first three.

Chandler Beat Tressider. A fine field of long-distance men came out for the 5000 metres, in the lot being Mike Ryan, of New York, United States; Keeper, the Indian, from Manitoba; Harry Lawson, Jas. Duffy, O'Brien, W. R. Chandler, of British Columbia, and Harry Tressider, the Canadian three-mile champion. The race speedily resolved itself into a duel between Tressider and Chandler. The latter had a clear lead of 30 yards until the last two laps, when Tressider came up and took hold of him. He dogged the Westerner until the beginning of the last lap, and then tried to get away, but Chandler running easily refused to be shaken. Tressider again spurred and came into the stretch five yards in front. He was laboring badly when Chandler let down in earnest but nothing left and stopped to a job. The Westerner showed fine form, but Tressider with a little more work under his belt is likely to turn the tables when they meet again at Montreal. Altwater, of St. Catharines, who was third, was beaten nearly half a lap. The distance was a little too short for Mike Ryan, Keeper, the Indian, found the pace too hot for him, while O'Brien ran the last two miles holding his side.

Sheridan Won the Discus. In the field events nothing very remarkable was accomplished. Martin Sheridan, of New York, the all-round champion of the world, won the discus throw from Duncan Gillis, of Vancouver, with a toss of 135 feet 5 inches, four feet less than the Canadian record. Gillis beat Archibald in the 16-lb. hammer, tossing the missile 167 feet. Fitzgerald, of Eaton, won the standing broad-jump handsily while in the pole vault Cameron and Archibald tied at 11.6, the former winning the toss for the prize. Both failed at 12 feet. Bricker only had to clear 21 feet 5 1/2 inches to win the running broad jump. Lukeman, of Montreal, made a new Canadian record in the standing high jump, clearing the bar at 4 feet 9 1/2 inches. The former mark was 4.8 1/2. George Barber showed his class by capturing the running hop, step and jump, and the 110 metres hurdle, beating the Canadian record by two-fifths of a second in the latter.

An excellent match resulted from the encounter between Oak Bay and Victoria on the latter's ground on Saturday afternoon. Technically a draw, the game was really an easy victory for the Victoria eleven, as the victors were only four runs behind their opponents. Nevertheless the Oak Bay team can congratulate themselves on putting up a good fight and on giving the visitors something in the nature of a fright at one stage of the game.

Oak Bay batted first and sent in Schwengers and Spencer. Spencer played on to his wicket after he had scored 2 and Paul joined Schwengers. Runs came steadily with these two at the wicket. Schwengers being finally stumped by York after he had scored 22 by excellent all-round play. L. York was bowling surprisingly well at this juncture on a plumb wicket and varied his deliveries most cleverly. He had been beaten to the world with a lovely ball, which struck the batsman's leg. The umpire's hand went up to a confident appeal. With the advent of Barclay runs came apace. He was quite at home with the bowling and played a very nice, free bat. He was out at last to a very bad stroke at a ball of Major's, who had gone on vice Marshall. Major took the last four wickets at a very small cost, clean bowling two and getting the last two others caught by Bell standing close in on the leg side. Milne played a good innings of 29, and was unbeaten at the close, the last three wickets falling very rapidly. Wheeler's fielding at mid-off was quite a feature of the innings.

Gillespie and Gallier opened for Victoria. Milne was in fine form with the ball, but the batsmen could do nothing with him. He kept an excellent length and made the ball turn on occasions. He very soon knocked back Gillespie's off-peg and had Gallier guessing time after time. L. S. V. York was bowled off his pads by the all-conquering young Australian, and Major came in.

It is not often one has the pleasure of witnessing a display such as Major's on Saturday. Going in at a time when runs were badly needed he did not leave the crease until he had put his side on a fair way to victory, and that with as clean and crisp a display of hitting as has been seen in Victoria for many a day. He was very shaky at the start and allowed two or three good length balls off Milne to get past him, but afterwards he played with splendid confidence and hit with great power. One surprising hit lofted on to the top of the grandstand for six. His driving was clean and strong, and he showed his versatility with scoring strokes all round the wicket. He scored 63 before being bowled out by Turnbull. Green and McFarlane were together when time was called, with Victoria 125 for five wickets, and the result was therefore a draw.

Match drawn. Saanich vs. Victoria B. Saanich players were no match for the Victoria B team at the Jubilee hospital grounds on Saturday afternoon, and the game played under delightful conditions on a perfect pitch resulted in a win for the home team. and try to give his side an unfair advantage by the power of abuse. There may be a good deal of science in baseball, but it seems to me to resolve itself into scientific cat-calling.

I should also like to protest against the baseball writer's remark that baseball is the most widely played game in the world. Where does he get his data for such an assertion? If I am not mistaken, the great summer game of cricket is played in more countries of the world than ever heard of baseball. But I am open to correction. LOOKER-ON.

SHOOTING EVENTS ON SATURDAY

Fifth Regiment Rifle Association Hold Weekly Spoon Competition.

Great interest is being taken in the shooting competitions at Clover Point by members of the Fifth Regiment Rifle Association, 50 members turning out on Saturday afternoon to compete in the weekly spoon competitions. A great many of the men have been in the best rifle provinces, with latest sights and all modern improvements in the matter of wind-gauges, etc., and these are gradually shooting their way up to Class A. Five of the men have already graduated. C. S. M. Caven won the Gallipoli on Saturday for the first time, and also won a spoon in Class A. Appended are the principal scores in all classes:

TORONTO, CORNWALL AND SHAMROCKS WIN

Wide Scores at Ottawa and Toronto but Close Lacrosse Game at Montreal

Toronto, June 10.—Toronto and Tecumseh met here Saturday in their first Big Four fixture under ideal conditions. The Indians had made a few shifts in their line-up after their defeat of last Saturday by the Irish-Canadians but it was no good. The blue Toronto players rings around Querie's Tecumsehs and had no trouble in winning, 8 to 3.

Ottawa, June 8.—The unbeaten Cornwall team made it three straight in the N. L. U. at Lansdowne park Saturday, defeating the Capitals by a score of 9 to 4.

Montreal, June 10.—The Shamrocks again defeated M. A. A. in the N. L. U. Saturday afternoon, the score being three to one. During the first two quarters there were no scores, both homes being smothered by the opposing Shamrocks. In the third quarter the Shamrocks scored two while M. A. A. got one. The Shamrocks made one in the last quarter.

DRIVING ACCIDENT FATAL

Windsor, One, June 10.—Miss Gladys Wigle, a well known society young woman, died of injuries received in a runaway accident at Kingsville. Driving when the horse shied, she suffered a fractured skull when the vehicle struck a telegraph pole, throwing her out.

Spoon winners. The second match in the Canadian Rifle League was shot off on Saturday last at Clover Point, and in conjunction with the weekly spoon competition. The Fifth Regiment entered two teams, the first scoring 912 points or an average of 91.2, while the second team mustered 858 points or an average of 85.8. Following are the teams and scores:

First Team. C. S. M. Caven, 95; Sergt. Carr, 95; Sergt. Parker, 95; Sergt. Crockett, 95; Sergt. Anderson, 95; C. Q. M. S. Hatcher, 91; Lt. W. Winsby, 89; Corp. Edmonds, 89; Gnr. Pagett, 88; Hos. Sergt. F. Richardson, 88. Total, 912.

"CHANTECLER" AT LOCAL PLAYHOUSE

AN ADAPTATION OF
THE ROSTAND DRAMA

Maude Adams and Her Company Appear in a Unique Presentation

Victoria—or that part of it, at least, which went to see "Chantecler" on Saturday—is still wondering at this play which is something between a satire and a pantomime. That it was both is evident from the pure enjoyment which it gave to children too young to understand the satire, and to some of their elders who were too sophisticated to find attractions in farcical burlesque. The play produced by Maude Adams is not the original Rostand "Chantecler," and, if one remembers rightly, does not even follow the main theme of the story. A great many people went to see it out of pure curiosity, engendered by the wide comment which the original production occasioned, few having the slightest idea that they would care for it. Others went because an old-time favorite was interpreting the principal part—and came away disappointed that she had been found buried to extinction under a mass of plumage, which, with the more or less masculine sentiments issuing therefrom, were utterly foreign to the nature of this charming actress. As a satire, there were supposed to be cryptic truths wrapped up in the hen-language—human truths which might better have been spoken in a garb less laborious, but meant to be more telling because pointing to the human society watching the stage-story, the likeness of this farmyard life to their own more artificial and supposedly cultured world. "Chantecler's" story as told on the stage on Saturday is simple enough: the strutting cock-lord of the little realm outside the barn door, ruling with gentle superiority all the component elements of that little community. That his rule is resisted by some—namely, it is found—is expressed in the retort discourteous of one of the younger turkey family to whom the cock's crowing has been loudly praised: "O yes, crowing is a simple matter; I gobble!"

This jealous self-justification, gently insinuated as a human trait, is also heard in "Where there's no peacock, turkeys spread their tails," and epigrammatic comment by an envious one that the cock was "A mass of affection which he calls culture." All these things, as pointing at the spirit of the play—its moral and its meaning—were well enough, but to be thoroughly impressive should have been more realistic. Either the listener is utterly impervious to visual discrepancies—in which case the dialogue might as well be spoken behind a screen—or else he is painfully conscious of proportions and unrealities. For instance, one could not reconcile oneself, for the pure sake of listening to a little clever cynicism from perverted domestic birds, to seeing a rooster bigger than the watchdog, or to find two cocks fighting by engaging wing to wing. To see toads as big as a rooster was also rather startling—although as pure pantomime, made for highly imaginative child minds, it was quite permissible. One had also to perform some mental gymnastics to find anything resembling the crowing of a rooster in the mock claxon calls which were heard from "Chantecler" in the beginning of Act II, or to hear anything but a very obviously human voice in the supposedly rapturous song of the nightingale. These were both limitations with limitations which might only be permitted in burlesque or pantomime—a legitimate sphere for such unrealities.

"Chantecler," as interpreted by Miss Maude Adams, was a gentler breed of bird than one might expect from one with his autocratic sentiments, although in the later acts of the play one found the bombastic tone—a tone always belied by the too-refined acting of Miss Maude Adams—giving way to the confession of Chantecler's weakness; first, perhaps, in his confession of his secret—an act which even this proud denizen of the little valley world knows to be wrong in the light of the position which he regards as his divinely appointed place, "to raise the sun and make the day to break." "It is my song that sits the sun in heaven; it is my song that brings you back the light," said "Chantecler"—although this is said with too gentle a pride which mocks the words. Finally, in an unwary moment, off guard in the meditation of his love for the little hen pheasant and the soul-stirring notes of the nightingale's song, old Sol creeps above the valley hills—and dawn breaks without the song which "Chantecler" in his pride had believed made the day and brought light and warmth to his little world. Then, spurning the little hen pheasant through whom he had been brought rudely to a realization of his own unimportance in the world, "Chantecler" goes back to his farmyard, a humble apostle of duty.

There are abstract truths wrapped up in this parable, but the wrappings are not so interesting as to tempt one irresistibly to search the truths that lie, as a satire, As a pantomime, a burlesque, the staging was wonderful, and is one of the most wonderful things that we have seen in Victoria. The groupings of the big birds, the immense cage in which William Lewers as the port blackbird said his clever words; the kennel with its gruff phosopher watchdog; "through whose bark were heard the dogs of all the world yapping through his teeth," was one of the really delightful points on the stage during the first act, the role of the ancient mongrel being one of the cleverest pieces of interpretation in the whole play; the fluffy little peeping chicks; the luminous-eyed owl in dark silhouette against the sky; the coming of "Chantecler" with self-assurance and ruling words; the oracular appearances of the "nurse" hen from her enormous coop; and the great white-faced, cold-eyed peacock with gorgeous spreading tail. The scenery in act two, the distant hills appearing over the hedge; the enormous hole of the tree, and the two figures of the hen pheasant, and "Chantecler" crowing to the point of exhaustion in his determination to demonstrate his power over the elements, was very fine; while the last act, the scene in the heart of the wood, gave a picture reminiscent of a Drury Lane pantomime in its realism and consistency to natural objects. The work entailed in staging so enormous a production on so small a stage must be incredible, and shows just how clever the management must have been to so wonderfully adapt the scenery to the accommodation afforded. As for the short appearance of Miss Maude Adams in recognizable form—in her prologue before the curtain—she has nothing but praise, for the spoken lines were replete with the charm of her personality, and gave her audience a short glimpse of the woman who afterwards became lost in the feathers of a bird expressing masculine sentiments.

It is not often that a fatal accident happens on a cricket field, but one occurred at Wood Green, London. Herbert Griffin was acting as wicket keeper when a ball which he failed to gather struck him on the temple. He fell to the ground and died before the ambulance which was summoned arrived.

ONE LICENSEE HAS TWO FINES TO PAY SOLD TO INTERDICT AND BAR DOOR OPEN

Another Appeal Added to List
Under Provincial Statute Governing Liquor Traffic

David J. Haggerty and Edward J. Blacquire, saloon-keepers and grocers, at North Park and Quadra streets, were this morning fined $200 in the police court on two offences under the liquor act, of which they were found guilty. On the charge of having left the bar door open on Sunday, June 2, the accused pleaded guilty, but defended the other charge, of having sold liquor to an interdict. The conviction in the latter case will be appealed, according to notice given the court this morning by George Morphy, who represented the accused on both charges.

Giving evidence for the defence, Edward J. Blacquire, one of the licensees, admitted without being pressed that he had sold the bottle of whiskey from a case of whiskey which he kept under the counter of the grocery store. His solicitor claimed privilege as the witness was giving evidence that might incriminate him on another charge. The privilege was not assented to by the magistrate, who held there was none. The witness protested that he was unaware that he had, in selling liquor from the grocery store, committed a breach of the liquor act.

He claimed as a defence for the admitted fact that he had sold whiskey to the woman interdict that he had sold it before. Licence Inspector Fletcher had delivered him the notice that she had been placed on the interdict. The woman, however, from her husband's evidence, was ill in bed from May 7, the date the notice was served, but that on the 18th, three days after the sale was alleged, she was so bad from the effects of liquor that she had to be taken to the hospital, and the bottle which contained the whiskey sold her was found in her room.

No money passed between the purchaser and the accused when the sale was made, but she gave the licensee a ring for the value of the purchase, $1, and later her husband redeemed it. The witness could not say the date on which the sale was made but was certain it was before he was notified by the inspector. On Sunday morning, June 2, the accused followed his usual custom of entering his store through the bar door for the purpose of making his monthly accounts. He admitted a technical breach of the law to a police officer who called to buy time. The officer noticed the door open and afterwards swore to the information. The minimum fine of $100 was ordered in both cases and the fines were paid.

When the name of W. D. Allen, charged with automobile speeding, was called, the court learned that the defendant had died some time ago. The case was not proceeded with as the officials will try and summons the person who was driving the car at the time the alleged speeding occurred. The insertion of the name W. D. Allen in the summons occurred because it is the name under which the licence was issued, and has not been changed.

"The Spring Maid."

Comic opera choruses in the last twelve or fifteen years that could sing as well as dance blithely and look beautiful, have been few and far between. With the chorus bodies of old "Colonel" McCaull, and those of Barnabee, Karl and McDonald, who controlled the destinies of the famous old Bostonians, as much care was expended in the selection and training of the boys and girls who stood in the last row, and even could only peep out from behind a set piece of scenery, as in the choice of the leading singers. It was this care that gave the old operas of Gilbert and Sullivan, Offenbach and Audran a swing and dash that set audiences wildly enthusiastic over music and has made theatregoers of a former generation long for those days to come again.

It is claimed for the Werba and Lueschet production of "The Spring Maid" that here again has an equal care produced like results. Criticism that have rushed ahead of this opera have devoted much space to the fascinating powers of the new-found Hungarian songstress, Mizsi Hajos, but have always found space to praise a chorus that brought out the swaying, tinkling Viennese melodies with all the life and color for which the great choruses of Vienna and Berlin are so noted.

In "Nanon," with its maddening sweetness and in "The Chocolate Soldier" there have been pieces of music demanding great choruses of singers. If the players selected were inefficient vocally, the opera fell flat. In "The Merry Widow" the demand was for a large chorus of pretty girls who could dance, rather than for those of much vocal power; but in "The Spring Maid" these winsome players of the smaller parts must each be able not only to play her individual part in the stage pictures and in the action, but to give to the joyous music all the vim and rollicking fullness the Viennese composers have always demanded. "The Spring Maid" will appear at the Victoria theatre Wednesday, June 12.

WARNING!

Since the discovery in England and the introduction into Canada of SALVIA, the Great Hair Grower, and on account of the phenomenal sale it has had, others have tried to imitate SALVIA. Beware and make certain you get the original. Every bottle bears the name, "SALVIA."

The results obtained from using SALVIA are remarkable. Falling hair is at once fastened to the scalp; new life springs up from the roots, and the growth of the hair is amazing. Dead hairs are restored to their natural color. The dandruff germ is destroyed. Every bottle has a written guarantee. Campbell always keeps a stock of SALVIA on hand. Try a bottle and watch your hair grow. SALVIA is the only preparation, as far as we know, that is sold with a guarantee. A large bottle for 50c.

DEMONSTRATION IN JAIL.

San Quentin, Cal. June 8.—A demonstration which was interpreted as a protest against the prison food, occurred in the general mess hall of San Quentin prison at noon Saturday. The state prison board, which has been in session for two days, was startled by the sudden shrieks and howls of the convicts.

Dishes of food were thrown about the mess hall, the guards being unable to quiet the tumult. One guard, singled out from his fellows, was deluged by the prisoners with hot chowder. He beat a hasty retreat and after his departure the clamor abated. Twelve hundred prisoners were in the hall and many of them, it is said, joined in the disturbance. Warden Hoyle attributed the mess hall disturbances to about a dozen of the unruly element among the prisoners. He said these demonstrations had no special significance.

THE PASSING SHOW

The Empress Theatre.

Four young men who are billed as the Monarch Comedy Four are making quite a big hit at the Empress theatre this week with a capital singing and comedy act. They are a quartette of vocalists, every one of them being a good soloist, and their voices blend most harmoniously in the concerted numbers. They inject some spontaneous comedy into their contribution and their offering to a good bill provided for patrons of the Empress theatre this week has proven a big hit all over the circuit. They have to respond to many encores at each performance.

Ed Gibson, supported by a competent cast which includes Harrington Gibbs and Miss Katherine Fraser appear in "After the Game," a college farce, written by Mr. Gibson, who is not only a capable comedian but a playwright. "After the Game" had a triumphal engagement of no less than 38 weeks on the eastern circuit. The action of the play deals with the efforts of a designing young actress, a role played by Miss Fraser very well, to involve a college man, and the efforts of his inseparable chum to extricate him from the situation.

That ever popular and talented young comedienne, Miss Marie Dorr, is revisiting the Empress theatre this week. Miss Dorr is a charming young performer who last season caricatured an old haysack with much humor. Miss Dorr, not only is the possessor of a remarkably sweet voice, but has a most engaging personality and an abundance of girlish enthusiasm, which go far to make her act vie with the others on the bill for headline honors.

Brown and Moulton, Al and Gerlie, present a singing, talking and piano-lounge act that has much merit. Mr. Brown is a composer of much merit, and he ranks high as a pianist. Miss Moulton sings well, and the couple have a bright dialogue.

Grassi Brothers, a couple of acrobats who come from the continent after playing with success at the European music halls, present a novelty act which includes some acrobatic stunts and an "illusionary mirror." This illusion is not only ingenious but most entertaining. The Grassis have the distinction of being musical instrumentalists, in addition to being acrobats.

Majestic Theatre.
To-day and Tuesday will be shown "A Victim of Circumstances." The object of this picture is to tell an entertaining story. Many of its scenes are extremely beautiful, especially those showing the everglades with the quiet waters and tangled growth of its forests, their trees covered with "gray-beard" moss. The man was innocent, was convicted and suffered with other prisoners. A girl of the country pitied him, and when he escaped with others and bloodhounds were set upon their trail, she hid him. He was recaptured, however, and later pardoned. Then he returned to her. The story is good, interesting and full of acceptable freshness.

"The Moorish Bride" is a picture of Spain at a period when Moorish inhabitants had not been thoroughly subdued. It is a romantic love story with many pretty scenes. "The Current Events" is every interesting this week. "Rangoon, India," is a travelogue giving a series of excellent views of this old city. "Little Moritz is Too Short" is a very good comedy, with a unique plot brimful of laughable situations.

"CRUEL TREATMENT"

Woman Seeking Divorce Complains of Actions of Jealous Husband.

Muncie, Ind., June 10.—Mrs. Grace B. Kuhn, a young woman, suing Curtis Kuhn for divorce in the superior court, set forth that her husband was so jealous of her charms that he compelled her to pull down the blinds in their home every evening in order that the passing strangers might not gaze on her. This, she believes, is "cruel treatment." So jealous was the husband, according to the complaint, that when the wife attended a social affair in the evening or even visited her mother, he made her wear a calico wrapper.

CATTLE FOR COAST.

Calgary, Alta., June 10.—With a freight train from the North bringing in over thirty-five carloads of cattle, while at the same time sixteen carloads were coming in on three trains from the south and five carloads are being loaded at Glenora, along the east line, it is estimated that more head of cattle are on trains than there has been for years past and all these cattle are for shipment to Vancouver.

"Although there is big talk of a shortage of cattle, there are orders coming in every day for cars from shippers," said Live Stock Agent McMullen, of the C. P. R. on Saturday. "And at present there are more cattle in British Columbia than there have ever been before."

Mr. McMullen, however, is of the belief while there is no apparent shortage of cattle at the present time, there will be a shortage in the next two years, as the breeding of cattle in Alberta is scarce.

BIRTHDAY CALENDAR

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

You are fortunate and your dearest wishes are in a fair way to be realized. Some pleasant events will occur among your friends and a prosperous year will follow.

Those born to-day are fortunate from the start. Their brilliant minds will gain them many friends who will help them forward in their life work. They will succeed in literary and scientific fields especially.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Letters for publication in Daily Times must be received before 10 a. m. When received after that hour they will go over until next day.

A WORD FOR THE PLUMBER.

To the Editor:—Are not you rather hard on the plumber in your paragraph, page 4, tonight? I am not a plumber myself, but for three years in the '90's I had two plumbers working constantly for me in the environs of London, England, and I know it is not possible for a man to take the whole shopful of tools with him on a job. He is simply obliged to make an inspection visit first to see what tools, etc., he will require for the work. Again, the word plumber means a lead-worker. "Sanitary Engineer" is more descriptive of the various things he has to do. He has called himself a sanitary engineer in the old country ever since I can remember.

WIDENING OF FRONT STREET.

To the Editor:—In your issue of Friday last an article appeared anent the appropriation of five feet of land for the purpose of making Front street, Victoria West, a uniform width of 35 feet.

Your correspondent endeavored to make great play of the exorbitant figures asked for this land, and if his figures were correct he certainly deserves credit for calling public attention to the cupidity of the owners in question. But if his statement that eight only out of twelve owners have sent in their claims, a statement we have no wish to disbelieve, there is a large discrepancy in his figures and those known to have been sent in by eight owners residing on Front street for the land in question.

Your correspondent draws special attention to the value placed upon this land as compared with claims sent in, but the owners of this land are anxious to know by what special standard of values the assessor obtains his results.

There is approximately 850 feet of frontage affected by this proposed improvement, and if the assessor's valuation is set on which there are two opinions, the price offered by the city is somewhat less than 40 cents per square foot. Several of the owners will have to spend the whole, or more than this sum, to adapt their buildings to the new conditions, and one or two will have their frontages split.

Even this low figure has in some cases been modified, the writer of this letter being the recipient of a special offer of 25 cents per foot, out of which sum he will have the privilege of erecting a new fence to adorn the sidewalk, the owner of the next lot being similarly treated.

Now, without any desire to be personal, I am certainly curious to know if any member of the council would like to have his frontage torn up for such a sum, even for providing a public utility in the shape of a sidewalk.

There is not an owner on this street that does not agree with the council that this is a much needed improvement, if only for the sake of the children passing to and fro to the schools, especially during the rainy months of winter, and, further, I do not believe there is an owner affected by the proposed improvement but what would be willing to consider a fair offer to attain it. But to offer a price for land for

MINERS MAKE UNIQUE DISCOVERY

Find Long Cave Which Opens
Up Wide Vein of Silver-
Lead Ore

Nelson, June 10.—While making an open cut during prospecting at the Silver Hoard mine at Alsworth a few days ago a cave was encountered which, at an angle of about 45 degrees, runs into the mountain for hundreds of feet, opening up a wide vein of high-grade silver lead ore in much the same manner as an inclined shaft which would have cost many thousands of dollars to sink.

Announcement of this discovery, which is considered one of the most remarkable ever made in mining operations in the west, was made by H. W. Hawley, manager of the property; G. B. Harrington, a Spokane broker who represents many stockholders in the company, and E. J. Boxer, of Spokane, one of the stockholders.

Already the cave has been surveyed to a depth of 250 feet and no bottom has yet been reached. It is said, but to this depth the vein continued. It is believed that the cave, from the roofs of which hang hundreds of stalactites and in one part of which a member of the party picked up what appeared to be the fossilized jawbone of some prehistoric animal, is a fissure caused by the water working away the time formation from the vein.

Mr. Harrington remarked that by this discovery the vein had been opened up and the property developed in a few hours in a manner which by means of a shaft sunk in the usual way would have occupied months and cost a large sum of money.

The cave is sufficiently large, as far as explored, to permit the entry of a man and in places it widens out into large chambers. All the work that will be necessary, it is said, to complete this natural inclined shaft will be to widen some of the narrow places.

In addition to this work it is intended, said Mr. Hawley, to proceed at once with the extension of the south drift of the mine to connect with the cave and tap the Silver Hoard vein on the 250-foot level, where a large body of ore has been located.

KILLED BY BLAST.

New Westminster, June 10.—Dr. A. L. McQuarrie conducted an inquest into the death of Napoleon Jourdonnais, who tried to hide under a log instead of moving off a safe distance when warned that a blast was about to be fired at Lake Cogitiam. It was stated in evidence that the warning had been given, and that the other workmen who were with him moved out of the danger zone. Jourdonnais was struck by a fragment and lived only a few hours. The coroner's inquiry was conducted at Lake Cogitiam and the jury added a rider to their verdict of accidental death to the effect that a man should always be deputed to warn the other workmen when a blast was about to be fired, and that the warning should be of an emphatic character. According to present information Jourdonnais had no relatives in this part of the country.

CRUSHED BY FALLING TREE.

North Vancouver, June 10.—A city workman named Leonard met with a very painful accident the other day. He was engaged clearing the proposed new road to Rice lake intake, and while felling a tree it came over on top of him, inflicting an ugly gash on the head, almost reaching the left side, besides badly bruising his shoulders, body and legs. The unfortunate man was brought into North Vancouver hospital with all haste, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Thompson. It is immaterial as to how bones were broken, and notwithstanding his painful shock Leonard never lost consciousness.

TRAIL CONCENTRATOR TO BE DEMOLISHED

Building and Plant Cost $250,-
000—Extracting Values
From Low Grade Ore

Roseland, June 10.—R. S. Doig, of Roseland, has been awarded the contract for dismantling the big concentrator at Trail, by the Consolidated Company. There are 500,000 feet of lumber in the structure, besides a large amount of machinery. The building and the plant cost about $250,000. A large part of the machinery was sent to the Snowshoe mine, near Phoenix, and to the No. 7 mine, a few miles from Phoenix, and to other places four years since by the Consolidated Company. All of the nails, bolts, timber and boards will be loaded on board of cars, transported to the smelter and piled up for use. The machinery left in the concentrator is to be taken apart and stored. Nearly all of it can be utilized by the Consolidated Company. About ten years ago the concentrator was erected by the Roseland Power Company under the direction of Edmund B. Kirby, who at that time and for several years previous was in charge of the War Eagle and Centre Star. The concentrator was erected for the purpose of concentrating the low-grade ores of the War Eagle and Centre Star. When the machinery was started, however, it proved to be ineffective, and after a few short runs it was shut down. The plant came into the hands of the Consolidated Company in 1904.

Charles Dempster, mining operator, returned a few days since from a very successful trip, which ran over a period of three months and which was spent in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. Mr. Dempster has made the necessary financial arrangements for opening up the five mines on a large scale. "I had the honor," said Mr. Dempster, "to be invited, a few weeks since, to Thomas Edison's laboratory at Orange, New Jersey, to get what details were available in regard to his new process for the extraction of metal values from low-grade ores. He is Mr. Edison's belief that through the operations of his system of extraction, that the term low-grade ore will become obsolete. Mr. Edison's chief chemist promises to correspond with me and my associates directly, as soon as they consider it expedient and advisable to make the invention public. I fully realize what this process would do for Roseland with its billions of tons of low-grade ore. It would result in a complete reorganization of the camp, and the population would be larger than even it was in the boom days. In short the fondest dreams of those who have had faith in the Golden City will, I believe, be realized by means of the wonderful process."

PETIT JURORS' PAY.

Vancouver, June 10.—A recommendation to the effect that petit jurors be paid $5 a day whether they were called or not was made to the Trial and Labor Council from their parliamentary committee. As it was considered that the endorsement of this resolution could do no harm the meeting agreed to it, recommending that a copy be sent to the attorney-general. In connection with the defence of the parties recently tried on the charge of obstruction it was decided that the council pay $150 towards the expense, including the sum of $60 contributed by other parties.

BOY SCOUTS AID IN FIGHTING FIRE

Turn Out at Midnight and Render Valuable Assistance in Extinguishing Blaze

Kerrisdale, June 10.—Displaying marked coolness and with perfect discipline and order, the Kerrisdale detachment of Boy Scouts turned out close to midnight Thursday night and rendered efficient service in fighting a brush fire which had got beyond control of land clearers on Bodwell road.

Residents of the locality are warm in their praise of the aid furnished by the detachment. Point Grey has no fire department and with no organized resistance to the flames in sight, frightened residents had taken furniture from their homes to places of safety ere the Boy Scouts had arrived on the scene. Through the effective fire-fighting tactics of the Scouts the fire was soon under control.

ALDERMEN PROVIDE SALARY FOR MAYOR

Grand Forks Councillors to Receive Advance of $50 Which They Will Turn Over

Grand Forks, June 10.—The only business of special importance at the last meeting of the city council was the consideration of the aldermen's salary by-law, in committee, and it passed through this stage and also received its third reading.

On motion, the salaries of the aldermen were raised from $200 to $250, it being understood that each alderman is to refund $50 of this amount as a salary for the mayor, who is prevented from drawing direct remuneration by provincial laws.

Ald. Morrison explained that he intended to donate his salary to the city, to be placed in a fund to be used for the establishment of a park. He said there was a splendid park site on the south side of the river opposite his ranch. If he carries out his good intention, there will be a deficit in the mayor's salary which will have to be made up in some manner.

LUMBER MILL DESTROYED.

Nelson, June 10.—Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the lumber mill of J. B. Winlaw, on Slokan river, but the flames were prevented from spreading to the lumber yards. No insurance was carried on the mill and the loss probably will be $50,000. The mill was one of the most up-to-date plants in the mountains.

MISS MALECKA'S CASE.

English Lady Music Teacher Sent Into Siberian Exile for Life.

The lady music teacher who now lives in the Alexander Citadel, Warsaw, under sentence of four years' penal servitude, to be followed by life-long exile to Siberia, has no lack of friends in the British House of Commons. Her case is, indeed, attracting a great deal of public interest throughout the country and abroad. Miss Malecka was arrested on the 5th April last year, and kept in prison until October, when she was released on heavy bail, the amount of which had been raised in England. On February 13 last she was brought to trial on a charge of being a member of the revolutionary society of the Polish Socialist party. The chief evidence against her was that of an informer named Sukienicki. He stated that in July, 1910, at Cracow, he met Miss Malecka in a flat belonging to a member of the central committee of the Polish Socialist party, and that she discussed the party's affairs. This lady denied, but she admitted that she held Socialist views, and that she had held communication with certain Polish Socialists in London. Her friends contend that she is being punished for having opinions which she was free to hold in her native country, England. They say that she had no active concern in any political movement in Poland, and that she would never have been suspected of any designs against the state were it not that her father, a naturalized Englishman, had fought for Poland in her last struggle for freedom. Miss Malecka was born in England, and her mother was English. She travelled to Russia in 1910 with a British passport, which can only be obtained by a British subject. When she was put upon her trial she was described in the indictment as "an English subject." Mr. Acland, however, said in the House of Commons that the Russian government had stated that there was uncontroverted proof of Miss Malecka's Russian nationality, and that the court had made a mistake in describing her otherwise. This may not be entirely a diplomatic afterthought, but it is suspiciously like one. The Russian government declare themselves unable to say anything more than that they have been able to study the record of the trial. Miss Malecka is sending a petition to the Emperor of Russia, and pending a reply, her sentence is in abeyance. The czar may remit the whole or part of the sentence, and not improbably he will be advised to do so.

The property consists of 14 acres, of which eight acres are cleared, the balance being in light scrub. There is a stable for three horses, accommodation for 1200 fowls, a brooder house, incubator house, including incubators and about three dozen birds. There is also an almost brand new nine-roomed house with five bedrooms, cement foundation, indoor sanitation, hot and cold water. The house and outbuildings are worth $4000 at a conservative estimate. Price $20,000, with one-quarter $1,000. We shall be glad to take clients to view the above really beautiful property. Beckett & Taylor & Company, Ltd., 643 Port street. Telephone 2515 and 2567.

1750, FAIRFIELD—New house, 7 rooms and bath, close to car and park. Besides having every modern improvement there are laundry, electric light fixtures, and all the walls are beautifully tiled. You must see this house to properly appreciate what a bargain it is. Oliphant & Shaw, room 203 Central Building. Phone 3315.

LONDON DOCK STRIKE.

Leaders Believe Employers Will Accept Their Proposals.

London, June 10.—There is a general belief that the middle of the week will see the resumption of work by the dock strikers, 20,000 of whom had a demonstration at Tower Hill yesterday.

The leaders in their speeches declared it was their opinion that the employers at to-day's conference would acquiesce to their proposals. In the event of their failure to do so, however, a national strike will be called. It is understood that if the employers still refuse to yield the government will forthwith introduce a bill in parliament looking to the establishment of a joint board of arbitration.

MARINES REPULSE CUBAN INSURGENTS

U. S. FORCE ATTACKED WHILE GUARDING MINES

Warship Ordered to Havana Where Situation is Becoming Critical

Santiago, Cuba, June 10.—United States marines engaged in guarding El Cuero mines were attacked to-day by insurgents, who were repulsed after much fighting. There were no casualties among the marines. The loss of the insurgents is not known.

Washington, D. C., June 10.—The navy department last night ordered Admiral Oysterhouse to proceed forthwith from Key West to Havana with one dispatch ship and one other ship. These orders were issued by the state department after their receipt of a dispatch from Minister Beaupre reporting that conditions in Havana had assumed the character of a race war. It is probable that Admiral Oysterhouse, besides the dispatch ship, will take his flagship, the Washington, into Cuban waters.

Havana, June 10.—The publication in to-day's papers here of the news of the dispatch of American warships from Key West to Havana, under the command of Admiral Hugh Outram, created a profound impression. The popular impression is that the coming of the American ships means speedy intervention by the United States.

Officials, however, unanimously scout the idea and regard the sending of the warships as a friendly act by the United States. They declare they deplore that Washington has been misled by exaggerated reports into the belief that a racial war is about to break out. The officials assert that the rioting here on Saturday night was not significant of race hatred, but they do not explain the reason for the active preparations taken to prevent a breach of the peace in the capital last night. All parts of the city were patrolled until daylight by detachments of regular troops and home guards. The aspect of the city to-day is normal.

Report is Current at Ottawa but No Confirmation Can Be Secured

Ottawa, June 10.—No confirmation can be secured here of a report that the Duke of Connaught will retire at the end of the year and be succeeded by Lord Dudley. When the duke was appointed governor-general of the Dominion it was definitely stated that his tenure of office would be but two years. The expectation here is that he will remain in Canada for that time. It is recognized, of course, that a situation might arise which would necessitate his presence in the Motherland. As to who his successor would be in such a contingency nothing definite is known at the capital.

VOLCANIC ASHES FALL ON STEAMER

The Camosun Covered With Dust While on Voyage South

Vancouver, June 10.—Passengers on the steamer Camosun, which arrived this morning from Prince Rupert, witnessed a wonderful phenomenon all the way down until within 100 miles of Vancouver. A steady shower of ashes, presumably from the volcanic eruption in northern Alaska, started to fall into the sea and on to the vessel's deck and bulwarks soon after clearing from the northern port. The shower kept up steadily from Saturday morning until last night at midnight. The ashes fell to a depth of over an inch and extra hands were set to work to sweep it away. The steamer still bears traces of her novel experience.

Although the passengers and crew were unaware of the volcanic disturbances in northern Alaska, Capt. Dickson, the commander, pronounced the light-colored dust which fell to be volcanic ashes. He declared that the deposit did not come from any nearby point along the route, as no big bush fires were witnessed.

"It was the strangest spectacle I ever saw," said Dr. F. W. Ewing, chief surgeon of the Grand Trunk Pacific medical service, who was a passenger on the Camosun, in discussing the incident to-day.

"The entire heavens were filled with the fine dust which fell steadily soon after we left Prince Rupert. The ashes obscured the sun and made everything hazy. Every foot of the steamer was covered with the dust and extra men were assigned to sweeping it away. No sooner was it removed than a fresh supply fell from the sky. We

VICTORIAN RESCUED BY SEARCH PARTY

Sustains Injuries While Climbing Mountain—Narrow Escape From Death

North Vancouver, June 10.—Mr. Page, of Victoria, a visitor to the Canyon View hotel, Capilano, fell from a spur, between Grouse and Crown mountains, about thirty feet and spent all day Friday wedged in between roots of a tree on the cliff face, with a 400-foot clear drop beneath him.

Mr. Page, who is an elderly man, left the hotel at about 6 o'clock on Friday morning for the purpose of doing a little mountaineering before breakfast and had climbed the spur to within a short distance of the top when a rock which he had gripped gave way, striking him on the chest, and knocking him from his foothold. Badly bruised and helpless he lay without food or water all day. Night was coming on and fears for his safety being aroused, a search party was organized at the hotel.

The party, under the guidance of District Constable Lawrence, after hours of diligent searching, discovered Mr. Page at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. During measures were necessary in effecting the rescue and Mr. Page was brought back to the hotel, where Dr. Martin attended him.

His injuries are said to be of a serious nature, but Mr. Page yesterday was reported to be doing as well as could be expected.

LOCAL NEWS

Organ Expected.—The new organ for St. Barnabas church is to arrive about August, plans for the new church to be sent in for selection by the building committee on or before July 19.

Unfinished Items.—Unfinished items from the city council agenda from last Monday due for consideration to-night include the widening of South Douglas street, the Lord's Day observance, recommendation of the health and morals committee, the fire boat suggestion from Chief Davis, with his report on same, and the proposed acquisition from the Dominion government of the Clover Point range for park purposes.

W. C. T. U. Mission.—Tenders closed to-day for the W. C. T. U. mission building on Store street, No. 1415. There is a two-store brick building on the site with basement, having a seventy-two foot frontage to Store street, and a depth of sixty feet. Several offers have been received for the property, but it is doubtful if the committee will accept any of them at the present time.

Turkish Bath, under new management, up-to-date methods. Lady masseuse in attendance.

Band Discourses Sweet Music.—The Fifth Regiment band yesterday afternoon at Beacon Hill park gave another of their delightful Sunday afternoon concerts, the cool shades of lawn under the trees around the bandstand being thronged with those who had come out on purpose to hear the playing of these popular musicians once more. The programming of music in fine form, doing full justice to the numerous artistic selections which were undertaken.

City and Songhees Reserve.—At the city council this evening a report is expected from the committee which was appointed to make arrangements to discuss the reserve and the proposed bridges with the provincial executive. Sir William Mackenzie's recent visit having cleared the air somewhat as to the future of the property. The question of the transfer of the jail site to the city, or at any rate the grant of roads through the estate to connect up existing thoroughfares is also to be taken up with the executive at the same time.

New Pastor Preaches.—The pulpit at the Centennial church was occupied yesterday by the new pastor, Rev. Thomas Green, formerly of the Robson Memorial church, Vancouver, who, at the morning service, gave an inaugural address, speaking of the nature of his office and its two sides—what the people expected of him and what he expected of his people. In the evening, before quite a large congregation, the new pastor speaking from the text, Ephesians II, 19-22, enlarged on the idea of the church as a home founded on Christ, every member doing his part and assuming his responsibilities with a spirit of brotherly love, thus contributing to the success of the whole church family. If his part were thus well performed, the promise contained in the text that "God would be in our midst" would be fulfilled.

Leaving Trees on Street Lines.—There has been a good deal of discussion recently round the city hall on the best policy to be adopted in connection with the streets where trees of dimensions which prohibit their removal satisfactorily still exist. The same principle applies to places where expropriation proceedings have occurred, and it has been impossible to save the trees by removal to the parks such as was done with the beeches now in Beacon Hill park, taken from a widening scheme in another part of the city. The pavine
